

L. B. CARLE IS IN WASHINGTON

With Mr. Craig Of The Janesville Machine Works, Appears Before Senate Committee. SPEAKS AGAINST RAILWAY BILL

Tells What The Railways Have Done For Wisconsin--- Quotes From Hoard and La Follette Speeches---Gives Figures.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Washington, D. C., May 12.—L. B. Carle, who has lived in Janesville for fifty years, appeared Friday before the senate committee on Interstate Commerce as the representative of the Business Men's Association of Janesville, and the Janesville Machine Co. Being president of both organizations, he protested against the Esch-Townsend bill or any other legislation designed to alter the present conditions governing the railroad freight rates. Mr. Carle explained that Wisconsin has a railroad commission which makes public all the rates in the state and that as a result of the information thus gained, the Wisconsin tax commission said in a recent report: "There is as much love of justice and desire to see the right prevail among the intelligent railway officials as among any class of men, and any candid discussion will be greatly aided by their familiarity with subject." Mr. Carle said: "Railroads have always been so fair in the desire to adjust rates on complaint of the shipper that not a single complaint in these matters has been brought to the attorney-general." Continuing he quoted ex-governor Hoard of Wisconsin as follows: "The railroads of Wisconsin are to be counted among the foremost factors which have brought the state to its present high development. Fortunately for the best interests of all concerned, there has existed for years a friendly spirit of co-operation between the people and the railways." Further than this, Governor La Follette in his message in 1901, said: "The railway companies have been fairer than the average individual." Mr. Carle stated that the railroads do not charge extortionate rates in Wisconsin, and that the statement that the railroad companies "filched millions of dollars annually from the people" has no foundation. On the contrary the Wisconsin roads have reduced the rates at the request of shippers of the state at a cost of great reductions in their receipts. "To keep up with her sister state" said Mr. Carle, "Wisconsin has had to foster manufacturing, and with the present system of rates has taken first place among the states of the union." Mr. Carle gave figures, showing the unprecedented prosperity which Wisconsin is enjoying at the present is directly attributable to the railroads. "The agricultural, commercial and manufacturing interests of the state," said Mr. Carle, "are all in a prosperous and flourishing condition. Ninety per cent of the people, who produce the freight tonnage, originate in Wisconsin believe the mileage tariff would be a misfortune in the end to the agricultural interests of the state and have earnestly protested against any legislation that will compel roads to withdraw their present fair and helpful rates." J. A. Craig, general manager of the Janesville Machine company, also appeared before the committee to protest against the proposed rate regulation. He said his company needs the help of the railroads to protect it against the concentration of capital in his business. Said he, "If the railroads are not left in condition where they can continue to help us without delay we shall be absorbed or wiped off the map by the concentration of capital. The smaller shippers like myself are able to retain independence only through the willingness of the railroads to aid. With a commission making rates we could not get this help."

MORE BODIES FOUND OF CYCLONE VICTIMS

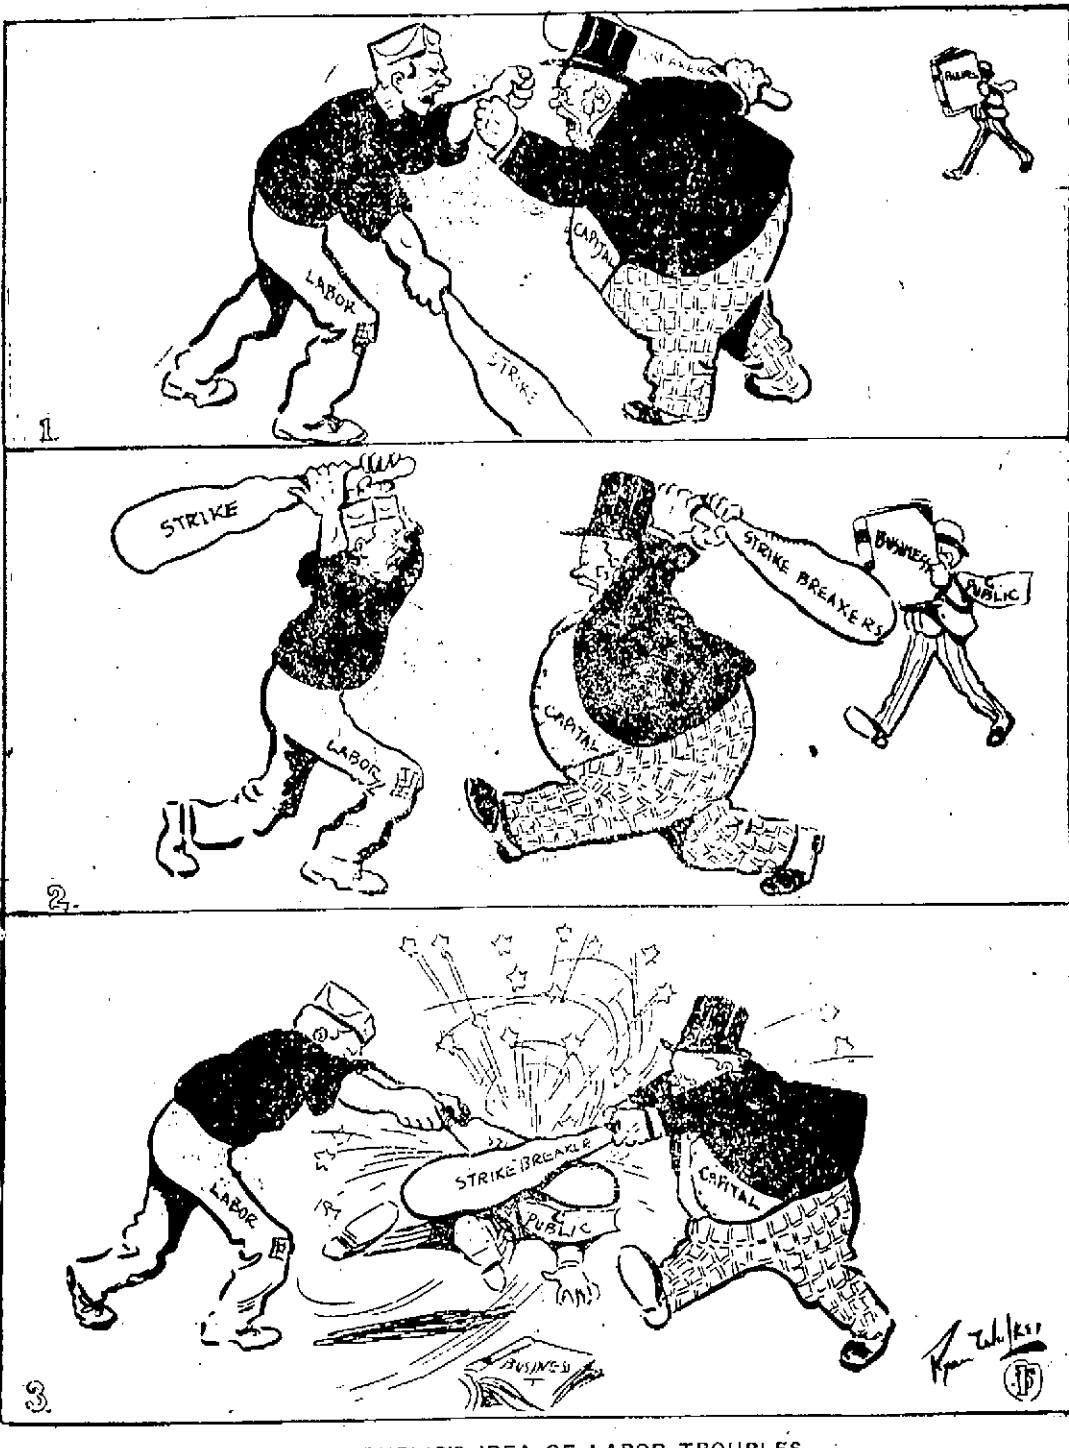

Scene at Snyder, Oklahoma, baffles All Descriptions—More Aid Needed. [SPECIAL BY SCRIPTS-M'RAE.] Snyder, Okla., May 12.—One hundred and ten bodies of cyclone victims were brought in altogether. Yesterday's cloudburst submerged the entire town, the water being neck deep in places. The relief committee has sent out additional calls for supplies today. Another relief train from Hobart arrived this morning. Seven Are Injured. St. Louis, Mo., May 13.—Six men and a boy were injured by the collapse of a steel trolley on Wilson avenue, near King's highway. Carnegie Gift for Radcliffe. Boston, May 13.—Andrew Carnegie has offered to Radcliffe college, Massachusetts, $75,000 for a library building.

CROKER'S SON DIED FROM DOPE ON BOARD A TRAIN

Rolled A Pill In Kansas City And Then Died On The Train Going West. ward.

Kansas City, Mo., May 13.—Herbert V. Croker, son of Richard Croker, the former Tammany chief, died on a Santa Fe train between Emporia and Newton, Kas., and there are indications that his death was caused by foul play. Charles Woodson, a negro porter at the Coates house, is under arrest, pending an investigation, as he was with young Croker and put him on the train on which he died. Young Croker was on his way to Bliss, Okla., for an outing on the famous 101 ranch. He arrived in Kansas City on Thursday, and appeared at the Coates house at 8 o'clock in the evening, but did not register. After checking a small valise, Croker asked Woodson to take him to a "hop joint." Woodson says Croker was intoxicated. Porter Complies With Request. After repeated requests Woodson says that he agreed to accompany Croker to a Chinese resort on Sixth street, between Wyandotte and Delaware, where they remained an hour. Woodson says that he then took Croker directly to the train at the union station. Croker's valise is still at the check stand at the Coates house. Passengers on the train took particular notice when young Croker was assisted into a chair car at the union station in Kansas City by the negro, because Croker was helpless, as if from liquor or some drug. The negro assisted Croker into a seat and then gave him a purse containing a railroad ticket and $19, counting the money out to Croker. The passengers heard Croker say: "Now, I want you to send me the rest of it." Negro Gives Him Money. The negro asked Croker to write his address, but Croker refused, and finally the negro wrote as Croker dictated. The address was "Bliss, Okla., care 101 Ranch." Immediately after the train started Croker fell into a deep sleep, snoring loudly. Later he grew quieter, and it is not known at what time in the night he died. The conductor thought him drunk and made no effort to take his ticket up until the train was a few miles from Newton, when he tried to arouse the apparently sleeping man. Then it was discovered that he had died, sitting quietly in his seat.

THE GENERAL PUBLIC'S IDEA OF LABOR TROUBLES

BUTTE THE SCENE OF BAD EXPLOSION

Seven Men Killed When Can Of Giant Dynamite Goes Off in Mine.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPTS-M'RAE.] Butte, Mont., May 13.—As the result of the explosion of a hundred pounds of dynamite on the 1500-foot level of the Corra mine on Friday, seven men were instantly killed and one probably fatally injured. The dead are: Daniel O'Brien, John Woolfhan, R. J. Hill, Neils Wampira, John Hanley, John Baker and David GHI.

TWO MEN KILLED IN A WRECK NEAR CORY

Engineer and Firemen Meet Death in Collision on the Pennsylvania.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPTS-M'RAE.] Cory, Pa., May 13.—In a collision of two freight trains on the Pennsylvania road near Hyde this morning, Engineer Silling and Fireman Bigman were killed and several other trainmen injured.

SIGHT WARSHIPS IN NEAR VICINITY

Advices From Hong Kong Show the Russian Fleet is in the Neighborhood.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPTS-M'RAE.] Hongkong, May 13.—Seventeen warships were sighted Wednesday night twelve miles off Three Kings, large rocks off the entrance of Hongkong bay. A number of transports were also seen at Knappe pass, seventy miles north Kamranh bay.

SPARKS FROM THE WIRES

The steamer Kingstontian arrived at Boston yesterday and reported a severe fight with fire on board for more than seventy-two hours, the flames being finally extinguished by flooding No. 2 hold.

The Akin-Arskine flour mill at Evansville, Ind., was destroyed by fire last night. Loss, $100,000; insurance, $60,000. Christian Volcker, a fireman, was thrown from a horse wagon and probably fatally hurt.

Andrew Carnegie has offered to Radcliffe college, Cambridge, Mass., $75,000 for a library building on condition that an equal sum be raised for its endowment, and an effort will be made to meet the requirements.

Captain F. W. Hart, paymaster of the transport Lawton, was arrested and held for court-martial yesterday at San Francisco for becoming intoxicated and losing $10,000 in warrants on the pay office.

E. H. Harriman of the Southern Pacific is reported to have taken over the holdings of the La Dura mine in Sonora, Mexico. The price paid is said to be in the neighborhood of $1,000,000.

Senator F. Eddy, secretary of the American embassy, who returned to St. Petersburg from Bad Nauheim, reports Secretary Hay greatly improved, and expects to sail for the United States June 7.

NAN PATTERSON IS NOW IN WASHINGTON

A Large Crowd Greeted Her at the Depot and See Her Meet Her Mother.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPTS-M'RAE.] Washington, May 13.—A crowd of two hundred and fifty greeted Nan Patterson when she arrived at the Pennsylvania railroad station at 7:20 o'clock this morning. The crowd cheered Miss Patterson and the Smith party as they walked through the station and took carriages for the Howard avenue home, where her sorrowing mother waited for her daughter. Jumping from the moving carriage, Nan ran to the veranda and embraced her mother. Others of the party followed and the reunion was touching.

A BLAST WENT OFF. TWENTY-TWO KILLED

Frightful Horror in a Mine Near Buda Pest This Morning—Awful Slaughter.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPTS-M'RAE.] Buda-Pesth, May 13.—Twenty-two miners were killed today by a premature explosion during blasting operations in the Almay coal mine at Resicza.

ENGINEER RESCUES MANY WORKERS

Blows Danger Blast When Cofferdam Gives Way and Hurts Laborers to Place of Safety.

Joliet, Ill., May 13.—High water in the river, together with a weak section in the coffer dam combined to work a catastrophe on the Lorimer & Gallagher section of the work north of the Ruby street bridge. Two hundred feet of the coffer dam near the lower end went out. The water rushed back, flooding the machinery, dump cars and tools. Seventy-five men who were working on the section at the time narrowly escaped with their lives.

The rescue of the workmen was made by Mike O'Grady, engineer. The break in the coffer dam came almost without warning and the workmen who saw the water rush through ran for their lives, yelling a warning to their comrades. O'Grady heard the signal and blew a danger blast from his engine. The laborers ran and jumped on the cars. When all were on board and with water almost up to the firebox O'Grady pulled the throttle and hauled the gang to safety.

John O'Hern, fireman of the steam shovel, was the only man left on the work. O'Hern could not run because he has a wooden leg. So he climbed on the roof of the fire house and yelled for help. A raft was built and the fireman was rescued.

Secretary of Agriculture Wilson, accompanied by Professor J. M. Spillman and M. A. Carleton, arrived in Memphis to make an investigation of agricultural conditions in the south.

ITALIAN ARRESTED AT WHITE HOUSE

Was Trying to Effect an Entrance into the Rear Window of the Building.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPTS-M'RAE.] Washington, May 13.—An Italian, arrested last night while trying to effect an entrance at the rear door of the White House, was this morning committed to St. Elizabeth hospital for the insane. He gave his name as Daniel Costabel.

STRIKES MINE OFF PORT ARTHUR HARBOR

English Vessel Sinks—Passengers Rescued But Many of Crew Drowned.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPTS-M'RAE.] Tokyo, May 13.—The British steamer Sebrulenz, bound from New Chwang to Kobe, struck a mine off Port Arthur and went down. Boats from Port Arthur rescued all the Europeans, but it is believed several of the crew and passengers were drowned.

He Sold the Horse.

A man who bought a horse—the first one he ever owned—was told that a side window in a stable makes a horse's eye weak on that side by another that a window in front hurts his eyes by the glare; then that a window behind makes him squint; and that a window on a diagonal line makes him shy when he travels, and finally a stable without a window makes him blind.

STATE NOTES

Racine is to have a permanent Chautauqua, with $10,000 capital. Two hundred delegates are in attendance at the convention of the district Christian Endeavor at Waukesha.

Dr. Charles F. Browne of Racine has received a telegram from New York saying his brother, Thomas Browne, had been drowned there.

Co. D won the finals in the competitive drill of the state university regiment on Friday. The company received a mark of 96 points, against 93.1 for Co. B.

The members of the Racine city council last night, as a committee of the whole, instructed the board of public works to advertise for bids for a bascule bridge in place of the old Main street bridge. The estimated cost is $100,000.

Prof. Frankenburg of the state university has chosen these seniors to deliver orations on commencement day: Grover B. Huebner of Manitowish, H. L. Geisse of Clinton, Emil Olbrich of Harvard, Ill.; Max Loeb of Appleton, A. G. Arnold of Whitewater, W. J. Hagenah of Madison, and W. G. Hamilton of Madison.

Judge E. H. Belden handed down a decision in favor of the plaintiff in the circuit court at Racine in the case of O. R. Schulz against the Trades and Labor council, et al. Mr. Schulz some time ago brought action against the Trades and Labor council, from Moulders' union, and Bakers and Confectioners' union, restraining them from maintaining a boycott.

WAITING GAME IS THE POLICY

Police Force Reduced In Chicago This Morning—More Wagons Running.

DISTRIBUTED MOURNING BUTTONS

Fifty Thousand Teamsters Wearing Mourning Button For Dead Union Driver Shot By A Deputy Sheriff.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPTS-M'RAE.] Chicago, May 13.—Two hundred additional wagons were put into service this morning by the employers. Because of the subsiding of violence, the police force on duty as a result of the teamsters' strike was reduced by a hundred men. The unions this morning distributed fifty thousand buttons with a black border and on them inscribed: "We mourn the loss of a dead brother." The caption is supposed to refer to the death of George Prince, a union teamster killed by Deputy Sheriff Waldron. "Standing Pat." The Team Owners' association held a special meeting at noon today to consider their position in the teamsters' strike and decided to deliver to the strikers' committee tonight their ultimatum that the association insist on their contracts with "struck" houses being observed. Unless the labor men at Sunday's meeting recede from their position that the Team Owners' association remain "neutral" in the present trouble, this action means one of two things—a spread of the strike or its practical abandonment. Teamsters' Refuse to "Accede." President Shea and his strike lieutenants declared that to grant such permission would be equivalent to calling the strike off, and it would not be considered. He said that if any of the team owners were looking for trouble they could have it. The same committee of team owners will attend a meeting of the Teamsters' joint council and ask the delegates to permit them to make deliveries to all customers. While none of them would talk on the subject, it is said they have determined to make the deliveries anyway, with or without permission. Within the past week a number of important teaming contracts have been canceled because of the refusal of the team owners to make deliveries to houses on the strike list. The loss of these contracts, it is said, has prompted the team owners to discontinue their policy of neutrality and take up the fight with other employers. Invites General Strike. One of the largest team owners in the city, who has remained neutral in the fight by refusing to send any of his wagons to the houses on the strike list, said: "There has got to be a showdown in this strike, and it may as well come now. If Shea orders a general strike, let him do it. We might as well have it as live from day to day in suspense. We must carry out our contracts or we cannot do business." The teamsters are in no mood to call the strike off at this time, and it is practically certain that the joint council will not agree to allow deliveries to be made to the boycotted houses. If it is the purpose of the team owners to force deliveries to those houses, it cannot have any other effect than to spread the strike. Team Owners Are Divided. Before the meeting of the team owners last night, H.C.'s drive to Belmont and to send the money back by a negro preacher inside of one hour or he would kill his wife. Hess hurried to Belmont and got the money and sent it back with a negro preacher. The desperado immediately mounted the horse and rode up the Iron Mountain railroad tracks. Posse Pursue Negro. A posse was organized at once by Belmont and Columbus citizens and a small party followed the negro on a switch engine and discovered that he took refuge in the swamps around First lake. Bloodhounds were secured from Charleston and a negro was found in a deserted shanty. He was captured and taken to Belmont by the officers. A mob of several hundred persons had formed in Belmont and they immediately took charge of the negro and despite his begging and pleadings rushed him into the public square, secured a rope from a large swing and strung the negro up as the guilty man.

HOW TO IMPROVE TOBACCO CROPS

REPORT OF UNIVERSITY EXPERIMENT STATION MADE PUBLIC

WEED OF BETTER QUALITY

Interesting Experiments in Raising Sumatra Tobacco Under Cover—Special Data.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., May 13.—The results of the experiments in tobacco raising, carried on during the past two years by the University of Wisconsin experiment station indicate great possibilities in the way of improving the quality of Wisconsin tobacco. Since Wisconsin is one of the leading tobacco growing states in the union and is annually producing a crop estimated at over $4,000,000 successful efforts to improve this tobacco product will prove of great value to the state. For nearly half a century this industry has been developing slowly but steadily, practically without state aid. While great progress has been made by the individual grower in producing high-grade tobacco there have been a number of unsolved problems which vitally concern the future of tobacco growing in this state. It was with the purpose of investigating these problems that the state university experiment station was granted, by the last legislature $3,000 for two years, and with this appropriation has been conducting the investigations, the first results of which are now being published.

Object of the Experiments
After numerous inquiries as to the status of the tobacco growing industry, and after consulting with growers and dealers, Professor E. P. Sandsten of the department of horticulture of the college of agriculture decided to undertake several lines of investigation, the purposes of which were as follows: First, to improve Wisconsin tobacco seed so as to increase the yield and improve the quality and early maturity of the tobacco; second, to carry on a series of experiments with different commercial fertilizers in various counties of the state, and to study the effect of these fertilizers upon the burning quality of the leaf; third, to test the value of cover crops in connection with the growing of tobacco; and fourth, to ascertain the adaptability of Wisconsin soils and climate for the production of shade-grown Sumatra tobacco with special reference to the cost of production and quality of the product.

Improvement of the Seeds
The most serious complaint against Wisconsin tobacco by buyers is its lack of uniformity. This is due to the fact that a number of varieties or strains of tobacco are grown, producing a mixed lot varying greatly in quality with value. This state of affairs is detrimental financially, both to the grower and to the dealer. The need of selecting a pure strain of tobacco seed that would produce a satisfactory yield to the grower and a desirable quality for the buyer was at once apparent. After looking about for some time for a variety that would nearest fulfill the requirements for a typical Wisconsin tobacco, and after consulting with several of the leading tobacco dealers, a pure strain of Connecticut Havana seed leaf, Wisconsin grown, was selected, and enough seed was procured to plant one acre. Just before blooming time the field was carefully gone over and more than one-half of the plants that did not come up to the standard were destroyed, leaving only those plants presenting the highest type to mature their seed. About seventy pounds of tobacco seed was harvested from this field, the greater part of which seed was put up in two and three-ounce packages and distributed by the university station to the tobacco-growers in various sections of the state for trial. Free of charge. The reports received from these growers last fall were very gratifying and the expectations entertained in regard to this seed by the university experiment station were fully realized.

Increases Value of Crop
During the past season the work of improving the seed has been continued and two acres were planted from this seed, one acre in Rock county, and one in Crawford county. The seed from these two acres were harvested under very favorable conditions; it has been thoroughly tested for purity and germinating power, and is being rapidly distributed among tobacco growers for the coming season. It is the aim of the experiment station to bring the seed to the notice of every tobacco grower in the state and to give them an opportunity to test it under their own conditions. If this strain of tobacco seed should prove acceptable to the growers of the state, as well as to the buyers, it would greatly increase the value of the crop and help to establish a higher reputation for Wisconsin tobacco outside of the state.

Originating New Varieties of Tobacco
During the last season twenty-five varieties of tobacco were grown at the experiment station for breeding purposes. Over twenty-five crosses between these different varieties were

A CROWN OF GLORY.

As Well as a Mark of Beauty Is Luxurious Hair.

It has been truly said that the crowning glory of our race is a luxuriant head of hair.

It used to be thought that this was one of the blessings which the gods bestowed capriciously, and it is only recently that scientists have discovered that its beauty is dependent upon the absence of a minute germ which flourishes in the hair follicles, where it destroys the life of the hair.

To restore this life and kill the germs which cause the mischief is the mission of Newbro's Herpicide.

Herpicide surely kills the germs, and is the best hair dressing on the market.

It contains no grease or oil, neither will it stain or dye.

Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

made and the seeds saved for planting the coming year. This work was undertaken with the idea of producing, if possible, by pure breeding and selection, a new variety or varieties of tobacco that would further increase the yield and improve the quality. Professor Sandsten believes that we have not yet found an ideal variety of tobacco for Wisconsin.

Fertilizers and Burning Quality
The principal reason why Wisconsin tobacco has attained such high reputation for burning quality is undoubtedly due to the presence of the large amount of humus, or vegetable matter, in the soil. When the humus becomes exhausted, the tobacco leaves begin to lose many of their desirable qualities, especially their burning quality. During the last year experiments were conducted in several parts of the state with commercial fertilizers on small areas to test their effect upon the burning quality of the leaf. The results of these experiments go to show that potash, when used in large quantities, and land poor in humus, does affect the burning quality. Nitrogen in the form of nitrate of soda seems to have little or no detrimental effect. On land fairly rich in humus a liberal application of these fertilizers has shown no injurious effect upon the burning quality. If the use of commercial fertilizers becomes a necessity, as it undoubtedly will in the future, these facts are of great importance. No evil results should be experienced if the growers adopted some system of rotation or the use of a cover crop, since these methods would supply the soil with sufficient humus to produce a good crop. There is no doubt but that land given up to tobacco growing for a number of years with the use of commercial fertilizers, and without any addition of barnyard manure, will produce a tobacco that is inferior in burning quality. The Wisconsin growers have not as yet experienced any bad result from this practice, since ordinarily our lands are rich in humus, and commercial fertilizers have been used only to a very limited extent, but with the increased acreage for production and with a more equal distribution of barnyard manure to the other farm crops, the tendency will be towards the use of commercial fertilizers on a larger scale.

Find Valuable Cover Crop
In planning tobacco experiments, it occurred to Professor Sandsten that cover crops might be used as a means of partially maintaining the fertility of the tobacco lands and improving the physical condition of the soil. With this end in view cover crop experiments were started at each place where fertilizer experiments were being carried on. The crop used for this purpose was a hairy vetch, a plant belonging to the legume family and perfectly hardy. It was sown the last week in July at the time when the tobacco plants were cultivated for the last time, and an examination of the fields in November of this year showed that the vetch had completely covered the soil where the tobacco stood. Being hardy, the plant will keep on growing until stopped by a heavy frost and, after remaining green during the entire winter, will start to grow again early in the spring, forming a dense mat of green herbage, which can be plowed under in time to use the land for another crop of tobacco. Not only does this plant furnish protection field a large amount of vegetable matter, thus improving the physical condition of the soil; but like other legumes, it is capable of assimilating atmospheric nitrogen, by the aid of bacteria which live on the root, and which make it available for the plant, thus being a soil improver and fertilizer at the same time. If this experiment should prove a success, it will be a means by which the tobacco grower can supply a large portion of nitrogen that is needed by this crop, in a very inexpensive way.

Sumatra Tobacco Under Cover
In order to study the adaptability of Wisconsin soil and climate for the production of shade-grown Sumatra tobacco, arrangements were made in the spring of 1905 with Mr. S. B. Hedges at Janesville to carry on some experiments on his two-acre plantation of shade-grown Sumatra. The work was in charge of Professor Sandsten, and an assistant was stationed with Mr. Hedges to aid in the work of growing the crop and to keep a detailed account of the work. The Sumatra tobacco was grown under a huge tent which covered two acres and looked very much like a flat circus tent with sloping sides. The cloth is very thin, permitting the air, rain and sunshine to pass through it freely. Cedar posts were used in the construction of this tent and framework was put up as stable and straight as possible. This shade-grown tobacco received most thorough cultivation and care, and each plant was given individual attention. The plants grew to a height of nine to ten feet and filled the tent completely, often pushing the cloth upward.

The development of this shade-grown Sumatra industry in Wisconsin will depend, of course, upon the market and the price obtained for the product. The shade-grown Sumatra tobacco raised in these experiments sold from $2 to 50 cents a pound, thus averaging a little less than $1.25 a pound. The total yield after fermentation from two acres for two years was 4,424 pounds. The entire cost of constructing the tent and of cultivating the two acres during the two years was $3,395.03, and the price received for the tobacco was $5,076.30, leaving a net profit of $1,681.27. This would make an annual net profit of $420.32 an acre.

During the last year one-sixth of an acre was devoted to shade-grown Sumatra at Soldiers Grove, Crawford county, as it was thought that the soil condition in that section of the state was more favorable for the development of a high quality of leaves. The experiment was a success in every respect. The stand of tobacco was excellent, and was harvested and cured under favorable conditions. Although the crop has not been fermented as yet, all indications point to a very favorable result.

There's no beauty in all the land

That can with her face compare,

Her lips are red, her eyes are bright,

She takes Rocky Mountain Tea at night.

Want ads are good investments.

LIBRARY RECEIVES TWO GIFTS LATELY

Philomathian Club and Members of Former St. Cecilia Society the Presenters.

Two gifts, one a framed picture and the other a number of books, have been presented to the Janesville public library recently. The first is an excellent portrait, beautifully framed, of Oliver Wendell Holmes and was given by the Philomathian club. It has been hung on the north wall of the Carnegie building. The other present is from the former members of the St. Cecilia society and is four books on musical subjects. This organization has for a number of years been disorganized and a deposit for it has been laying in one of the Janesville banks. This money, it was decided by those who were members of the club, should be given to the library and the four volumes have been purchased. One book is an exceptionally good reference volume, another is a book of biographies of musicians, a third "Famous Pianists of Today and Yesterday," and the fourth has not yet been delivered.

More New Books.
Seven volumes, all the latest of fiction books, have just been placed upon the shelves and are now ready to be drawn. They are: "Princess Passes"—Williamson. "Sandy"—Rice. "Orchid"—Grant. "Mum Tree"—Phillips. "Marathon Mystery"—Stevenson. "Fugitive Blacksmith"—Stewart. "Purple Parasol"—McCutcheon.

At the next meeting of the library board a list of books to be purchased will be presented and passed upon and doubtless about three hundred dollars will at that time be ordered expended for increasing the number of books.

NEW PITCHER FOR TOMORROW'S GAME

Holdum of Racine Will Twirl for Janesville Against Madison at Yost's Park.

For tomorrow's baseball contest, at Yost's park, a new pitcher has been secured by the Janesville Captain. This twirler, who is said to be a wonder and recently shut out a team of good standing at Clinton, is Holdum of Racine. He is not known here but was recommended to Captain Ruhland by Pye, another of the Janesville team and the catcher of last year's Clinton Maroons. The Schedemen and Ballie team of Madison is the nine which will play with the locals and the two aggregations will be matched as follows:

Janesville..... Madison
C. Broughton..... J. Proctor
H. Broughton..... J. W. Wheeler
J. Ruhland..... J. J. Hamilton
J. Riley..... T. Connelley
J. Broughton..... J. Ryland
J. Ruhland..... A. Sprang
P. Larson..... W. Dunn
J. Greene..... F. Freney
J. J. Bartholomew

JOHN LAVIN DIED AT THE ASYLUM

Town of Janesville Farmer Who Became Violently Insane on Saturday Passed Away Yesterday.

John Lavin, the town of Janesville farmer who recently went violently insane and who was captured, bound, and brought to the county jail after a hard chase, died at the Menota asylum yesterday. There had been no improvement in his condition since he was committed to that institution last Monday and his case was pronounced almost hopeless after his arrival there. He was a strong and powerfully built man weighing over 300 pounds. A wife and one brother survive. The funeral services will be held at St. Patrick's church Monday morning at ten o'clock.

BISHOP NICHOLSON IS HERE ON SUNDAY

Episcopal Bishop to Confirm Classes at Trinity and Christ Churches.

Bishop Isaac Nicholson of the Milwaukee diocese of the Episcopal church arrives in the city this evening and will perform the rites of confirmation at Trinity church in the morning and at Christ church in the evening of Sunday. Bishop Nicholson is one of the noted bishops of the Episcopal church and his annual visitation to the Janesville churches marks an epoch in the year's work of the church.

RT. REV. I. L. NICHOLSON, D. D., WHO CONFIRMS CLASSES AT TRINITY AND CHRIST CHURCHES TOMORROW.

GOES TO PANAMA TO WORK ON CANAL

N. A. Watts, Who Worked in Beloit for Some Time, Leaves Soon for the Isthmus.

N. A. Watts who has until recently been employed in the Pairbanks-Morse shops at Beloit, leaves shortly for Panama, where he goes to take a position upon the construction work of the great canal. Mr. Watts is to act as special correspondent for the Gazette and will doubtless write some interesting letters as to the progress of the construction of the great waterway that is to unite the Atlantic and Pacific oceans. Mr. Watts has had considerable railway experience on the lines of the Illinois Central and it is through a personal acquaintance with Mr. Wallace, a former official of that road and now in charge of the work on the isthmus, that he secured his position. With Mr. Watts looking after the canal in particular and Miss Humphrey to sanitary conditions and general Canal Zone gossip the Gazette will be able to furnish its readers with a clear idea of just what is going on down in Uncle Sam's new grand project. In fact, material which Miss Humphrey has sent to the Gazette has been made public in the magazines or large papers of the country until long after publication here. The pictures of the Canal Zone we have published are also exclusively used in this paper and arrangements have been made for Mr. Watts to supply us with more dealing directly with the canal work itself.

N. A. WATTS

THE THIRTY-FOURTH ANNUAL GATHERING

Of the Rock County Sunday School Association at Egerton May 20 and 21.

In Egerton, Saturday and Sunday, May 20 and 21, will be held the thirty-fourth annual meeting of the Rock County Sunday School Association. Delegates from the various schools of the county will be in attendance in large numbers and a good representation will be sent from Janesville. The public is invited to all the sessions of the gathering and many who are not regularly chosen delegates will probably attend from all over the county. The officers of the organization are: president, W. T. Dobson of Beloit; vice-president, Mrs. Wesley Winch of Milton; secretary, Miss Cora D. Ross of Beloit; treasurer, W. W. Gillies of Egerton; superintendent of missions, J. T. Wright of Janesville, and leader of song, Mrs. Evelyn K. Tuttle of Beloit.

Janesville Speakers
A number of Janesville people are on the regular program. They are C. K. Kriesey, J. C. Kline and J. T. Wright. Mr. Kline will speak on the topic, "Making a Christian Worker." The program was drawn up and the other arrangements made by a local committee of Egerton Sunday school workers, comprised of the following: Miss Wright (chairman), Rev. F. C. Richardson, Miss Angie Towne, Miss Ella Whittey, Mrs. Frank Horton, and M. B. Fletcher.

Program
SATURDAY, MAY 20.
Sessions held in Congregation church. Morning, 11:15—Reception and assignment of delegates. Appointment of committees. Afternoon, 2:20—Song Service. 2:15—Devotion Service, M. Rabyer, Otterbier. 2:30—Words of Greeting, Rev. F. C. Richardson, Egerton. Response. 2:45—Topic, C. K. Kriesey, Janesville. 3:15—"Boys in Their Teens," Mrs. C. L. Shurman, Evansville. 3:45—Reports of Delegates: Report of Secretary; Report of Treasurer; Report of Committees.

Evening, 7:30—Song and Prayer Service. 7:45—Address, Rev. A. L. McClelland, Milton; Prayer for Services Tomorrow.

SUNDAY, MAY 21.
Sessions held in Methodist Episcopal church.
Morning, 8:45—Devotional. 9—"Making a Christian Worker," J. C. Kline, Janesville. 9:30—"Hopes in the Sunday School," Roy Tompkins, Beloit. 10:30—Regular Church Services. 11:45—Grand Union S. S. Session; Consideration of Day's Lesson. Afternoon, 2:30—Children's Meeting (at Congregation church). 2:30—Devotional, J. T. Wright, Janesville. 2:45—"Normal Class Work," Prof. G. L. Lowth, Clinton. 3:25—"Workers' Conference"—Home Department. "Kindergarten." "Cradle Roll." Chas. Kelsey, Beloit. 4:30—"Suffer Little Children to Come Unto Me," O. S. Shepard, Evansville. Evening, 7:30—Song and Prayer Service. 8—Address: "Our Home and Our School in the Mission Field," illustrated with stereopticon views, Prof. J. C. Pierson, Consecration Service.

LARGE AUDIENCE ENJOYED ADDRESS

On "Ireland of Today," Delivered by Prof. M. G. Rohan at Assembly Hall Last Evening.

Professor Michael G. Rohan of Marquette college, Milwaukee, delivered a very interesting stereopticon lecture on "Ireland of Today" before a large audience at Assembly hall last evening. He spoke under the auspices of the Ancient Order of Hibernians and Ladie's Auxiliary to the order, and his discourse was a resume of experiences on a visit to the Emerald Island two years ago and the results of careful study of the conditions obtaining there. John T. Kelly, state president of the society was present, and made a brief address. The latter portion of the evening was devoted to a dance for which Knott & Hatch's orchestra played.

GREATEST BILL OF VAUDEVILLE WORLD

Many High Class Attractions at the West Side Theatre Next Week.

Commencing next Monday evening the West Side Theatre offers the greatest high class vaudeville bill ever presented in Janesville regardless of price.

FREDERICK FOSTER.
The program is headed by George X. Wilson and Camille De Monville who will present a sketch entitled "The Man With the Turkey."

Emerson, the minstrel king, is on for a stunt and he comes highly recommended from the best vaudeville houses in the west.

A guaranteed hit is the Woodwards, better known as "The Sunburnt Rubes." This act is one of the funniest in vaudeville and has made a tremendous hit in Chicago and Milwaukee.

Foster & Henderson, the best colored team in vaudeville, will appear as the Koon Kadets and will show you an act well above worth the price of admission.

Verna Hall, the prettiest soubrette in the business, will render vocal selections and George Hatch will sing illustrated songs.

The moving picture machine will offer "Yegg" the bank burglars. Vaudeville in Janesville today is more popular than ever and if one is to judge from the daily increased attendance at the West Side this popular playhouse has certainly met the approval of the local theatre going public.

SIGNAL-LIGHT SYSTEM FOR POLICE MAY BE INSTALLED

Two Members of the Council and the City Marshal Have Been Inspecting the One at Beloit.

It is possible that the police signal-light system now in use in Beloit whereby officers in any part of the city may be summoned to the nearest telephone to communicate with the office by the flash of red lamps hung for the purpose, may be installed in Janesville. Aldermen Fish and Connel of the police committee and City Marshal Connel visited the Line city yesterday and made an inspection of the system.

NO SUBSTITUTE

has yet been found for cod liver oil. There are so-called extracts, wines and cordials of cod liver oil that are said to contain the active principles but not the oil itself. This is absurd on its face. You might as well extract the active principles of wheat and make bread with them. The best form of cod liver oil, that can be digested and assimilated most easily, is Scott's Emulsion.

We'll send you a sample free.

SCOTT & BOWNE, 409 Pearl Street, New York.

...LINK AND PIN...

News for the Railroad Men.

North-Western Road
Engineer J. M. Smith returned to work on the Barrington run this morning.

Engineer Seidmore is off duty for a few days.

St. Paul Road
Engineer Whalen is relieving engineer Warren on the Mineral Point passenger run.

Holes for the purpose of giving engineers a place to blow off their locomotives are being dug in the vicinity of the coal sheds here. The sides will be lined with cement.

Locomotive number 1326 made two trips to Hanover yesterday. The engine has just come from the shops and made the journey without having a hot box.

Important Train Service
The Michigan Central has improved its train service by a new schedule which goes into effect today. A new daylight train between Chicago and Buffalo, known as the "Volverine" makes the run between the two cities in thirteen hours. It is a thoroughly equipped train with all modern improvements and leaves Chicago at 8:45 a. m. This is followed by another train at 10:30 a. m., and by three afternoon trains at 2:45, 4:30 and 11:35 p. m. The Michigan Central is up-to-date and enjoys a liberal patronage. It is one of the best eastern routes out of Chicago.

ELGIN BUTTER MARKET

(Special Telegram.)
Elgin, Ill., May 8.—Twenty-five tubs were offered, with no sales. Official, firm at 24 1/2c. Output, 587,400 lbs.

Any in Janesville.

MYERS GRAND OPERA HOUSE

P. L. MYERS, Manager. Phone 609.

TONIGHT.

LAST BIG MUSICAL SHOW SPECIAL! SPECIAL! ENGAGEMENT EXTRAORDINARY The Shea Amusement Co. Presents A Star Cast of 40 PEOPLE—40 Including the Great German Comedians CARSON AND WILLARD AND OTHERS. In C. Herbert Kerr's Latest Musical Farce,

A TRIP TO EGYPT

2 A Big Musical Comedy Success. A Big Giltie Chorus. Group of Pony Dancers. Pretty Costumes. ACTS Sparkling Music. Novel Electrical Effects. OF Gorgeous Scenic Display. FUN! Graceland Dancers. The One Bright Star in the Musical Firmament.

PRICES: Matinee—Adults and Children, 25c. Night—Main floor, 75c; first 2 rows balcony, 75c; balcony balcony, 50c; gallery, 25c. Seats now on sale.

STALLIONS

For 1905, AT FAIR GROUNDS $10.00, $15.00, $25.00

BARON HOWE, 32071.

Six years old. Over 16 hands. Best Carriage horse sired in this section. Style, action, speed, soundness. To insure a mare in foal, only...$10

G. W. HOWE, 2:25/4, 25904. You all know him. To insure mare in foal...$15

THE REX, 36907. Four years. Over 16 hands. I believe fastest colt and one of best bred in Wisconsin. An ideal stock horse. To insure...$25

Mares sired by any of my horses...$20 For full breeding send to

H. D. MCKINNEY.

Canned Fruit

Monarch Peaches.....22c can
Monarch Extra Red Plums.....38c can Bartlett Pears.....50c can
Egg Plums.....12c can
Black Raspberries.....12c can
Sliced Peaches.....10c can
Solid Packed Red Cherries.....20c can

Home Made Bread and Cakes always on hand.

E. N. FREDENDALL,
37 S. Main St. Established 1869
New Phone 375, Old Phone 4332

ICE CREAM

$1.00 gal. 50c 1-2 gal. 25c qt.
We make our own goods from pure cream, and a trial will convince you that this is the place to buy.
All orders promptly delivered.

JANESVILLE CANDY KITCHEN
The Blue Front Store

SPECIAL SALE SATURDAY.

From 9 A. M. to 10 P. M.
Fancy Large Bananas, 10 & 15c doz.
Oranges, 20, 25, 30, 40 & 50c doz.
Heavy juicy fruit.
Just received a new confection.
DELICIOUS PUFFED RICE FLAKES 30c lb.

A. KARY & SONS.
70 E. Milwaukee St., next to Myers Grand.

Do you want a pretty lawn?

If so get your lawn mower sharpened by our new method. Our machine will grind them in a manner impossible by hand. It costs a little more but is worth it. Mowers called, called for, ground and delivered 75c

Automobiles Repaired.

RANDALL & ATHOL,
No. 8 N. River Street.
Old Phone 273.

The First National Bank

Janesville, Wisconsin
Capital & Surplus $200,000
Directors
S. R. SMITH, Pres. L. B. CARL, Vice-Pres.
JOHN G. REYNOLDS, Cashier
A. P. LOVING, G. H. RUSSELL, H. RICHARDSON, T. O. HOWE
A Strictly Commercial Business Transacted.

Blatchford's Plant Grower And Land Renovator.

Is an absolutely pure fertilizer for gardens, lawns, plants, etc. It is composed only of Bone Meal, Nitrate of Soda, Sulphate of Ammonia, Murate of Potash, Peruvian Guano and Gypsum, which are all the elements necessary for perfect and vigorous growth.

WALTER HELMS,
29 S. Main St.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS

DR. JAMES MILLS,
Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat Specialist.

GLASSES ACCURATELY FITTED. Office—25 West Milwaukee Street. Both Phones. JANESVILLE, WIS.

FRANCIS C. GRANT,
ATTORNEY AT LAW

Janesville, - - - Wis.
Loving Block. Telephone 24.

DR. FREDERICK C. LINDSTROM
OSTEOPATH

Suite 322-23 Hayes Block.
Rock Co. Phone 129
Wisconsin Phone 2141 JANESVILLE, WIS
Licensed by Wisconsin Board of Medical Examiners.

FETHERS, JEFFRIS, MOUAT & NEWHOUSE
Attorneys & Counselors

10 West Milwaukee St., JANESVILLE, WISCONSIN

CLEANERS and DYERS.....

LACE, CHENILLE and TAPESTRY CURTAINS CLEANED AND DYED.

Janesville Steam Dye House
Carl F. Brockhaus, Prop.
59 East Milwaukee

CEMENT WORK

I build the best kind of cement walks, cement foundations, cement curbs—in fact all kinds of cement work and guarantee it. My prices are worth investigating.

B. P. CROSBY
Telephone 602. 65 Palm St.

CARROLTON & HODGES, CLEVER ACTORS AT WEST SIDE THEATRE

THE JANESVILLE GAZETTE.

Business Office Open Saturday Evenings.

Entered at the postoffice at Janesville, Wisconsin, as second class mail matter.

Showers and thunder-storms tonight and Sunday; warmer tonight.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION

Daily Edition—By Carrier
One Year $6.00
Six Months $3.50
Three Months $2.00
One Month .50
One Year, cash in advance $5.00
Six Months, cash in advance $3.00
Three Months, cash in advance $1.75
Daily Edition—By Mail
CASH IN ADVANCE
One Year $6.00
Six Months $3.50
Three Months $2.00
One Month .50
One Year—Rural delivery to Rock Co. 2.00
Six Months—Rural delivery to Rock County 1.50
WEEKLY EDITION—Telephone, No. 77
Long Distance Telephone, No. 77
Business Office 77-3
Editorial Rooms 77-3

Some business men are too "conservative." If a farmer concluded not to plant seed, but to "conserve" it, because crops sometimes fail, he would be as wise as the merchant who "conserve" the money which should be invested in publicity, because he has it in bank, and because he fears that publicity may not be completely profitable.

OUR SATURDAY NIGHT.

When the Panama Commission was asked to resign in order to perfect a stronger organization, President Roosevelt decided to place at the head of the commission the best man that he could find without regard to salary. He figured that the best talent, for a position which carried so much responsibility, was the cheapest, and so he started out to find a $100,000 man.

The position was offered to Elihu Root and declined, as Mr. Root preferred to continue his law practice in New York city, where he stands at the head of the profession.

Then an effort was made to secure the services of Henry Clay Frick, formerly of Pittsburgh but now of New York. Mr. Frick had made his fortune and had reached an age where he was not ambitious to take on new responsibilities and he declined.

Then the president decided to abandon his search for a $100,000 man and have an executive committee composed of three good men whom he thought could be secured for $25,000 each.

He selected for field marshal Chief Engineer Wallace, who had already shown his ability as a member of the commission. Judge Magoon was selected for the political work on the committee, but when it came to a chairman, the man who must be responsible for the success of the enterprise, the task was still difficult.

Walter Wellman tells in the Review of Reviews how the third man was secured and who he is. The little sketch which follows is well worth reading for it brings to the surface a man who represents a type of American manhood. Mr. Wellman says:

"The President considered a number of men, most of them railroaders who had won reputations as managers of large properties. Finally, Secretary of the Navy Morton suggested Theodore P. Shonts. The President had never heard of Mr. Shonts. But there are thousands of clever and able Americans of whom few of us have ever heard. In a country like ours, lack of broad reputation is no bar to preferment, if the man has the right stuff in him.

"Mr. Morton soon convinced the President that Mr. Shonts was full of the right stuff. Mr. Shonts was asked to come to Washington for a conference. The President liked him from the first moment. The thing he liked best was Mr. Shonts' opening statement, frank and manly, that he wouldn't touch the job unless he could have absolute authority—unless, in case of differences of opinion, his judgment was to be final as to any matter lying within his province.

"Thus, this relatively unknown man rises at a leap from the presidency of a third-rate Western railroad to chiefship in the greatest engineering enterprise the world ever saw. It was quick work! And now it is Mr. Shonts' cue to make good the high expectations of the President and of his employers, the American people. His friends believe he will not disappoint. He has had the training. He started out as a railroad contractor in Iowa. There he gained experience in the management of men and in dealing with physical problems. Next, he was superintendent of the Indiana, Illinois & Iowa Railway. Afterward, he became its president. His field was steadily broadening. He knew the practical side of railway work. Now he was brought in touch with railroad finances. He learned rapidly. He and his friend, Paul Morton, secured control of a majority of the stock of the railroad of which Mr. Shonts was president. Then they sold their holdings to the Vanderbilt interests, and realized a profit of something like seven hundred and fifty thousand dollars each. More than a year ago, Mr. Shonts became president of the Toledo, St. Louis & Western Railway, and it was this post he held when the President asked him to become chairman of the canal commission.

"This is rapid rising in the world. Mr. Shonts is only fifty years old. He is in rugged health. He is not afraid to go to the Isthmus to do as much of his work as may be necessary there. He is a rich man. His income is said to be a hundred thousand a year from his railway investments; so he is 'the hundred-thousand-dollar man,' after all. He is frank and vigorous of manner—the Western type. "He talks freely. What he has to do, he does; and what he has to say, he says. Stories are told of his administering a sound thrashing to a man who called at his office to whip him and was surprised when the railroad president locked the door and started right in with the business in hand. The stories may be apocryphal, but they indicate the character of the man. He has vigor, he has grasp, he has that well-nigh indefinable American way of 'making things go' which has been so well illustrated in the careers of our successful railway managers."

The experience of the President in trying to secure talent of unusual ability is being repeated in the commercial and industrial world every day in the year.

The men who can make their service worth $100,000 a year, are not in the market, because men who possess this ability can not be hired to work for other people.

The $25,000 men are also scarce, because men who receive princely salaries of this kind, are usual fixtures and difficult to move.

While this class of men are rare, and the salaries they receive are exceptional, there are many desirable places which command good pay that are difficult to fill.

It is an old saying that "there's always room at the top" and it is just as true today as when first expressed.

The top may not mean $25,000 a year, nor one-tenth of that amount, but it means the best position in shop, store or factory, which any particular line of business has to offer. It means positions of trust and responsibility.

It means standing up close to the employer with a desire to carry some of his burdens and a disposition to work for his interests.

It means being in line of promotion so that when the time comes the man is at hand to meet the emergency.

The President wanted a man, and it required months of persistent search to find him. There is not a community in the country today that is not looking for a man. They are wanted in stores and offices, in shops and factories, and the demand is far in excess of the supply.

The world is waiting for men who appreciate the responsibilities of manhood and the great opportunities of American citizenship. Men who are loyal to themselves and to every trust committed to their keeping.

It is difficult to understand why labor organizations do not appreciate this fact and still more difficult to explain why intelligent men will submit to dictation and control on the part of these organizations.

Men stand or fall by themselves in this world, and no amount of boasting, on the part of a labor organization, can put a man on his feet.

Every man, and especially every young man, owes it to himself to cultivate ambition. He should aspire to be an employer, rather than an employee, and while he may not realize his ambition, his efforts to succeed will be rewarded and his abilities recognized. Independent manhood is the birthright of American citizenship. It is worth cultivating today more than ever before and prices are in store for every applicant.

There is no further excuse for Mayor Dunne of Chicago. The President gave him to understand that if he could not preserve law and order that back of him was the state and nation.

The substitute medical bill which was finally submitted to the assembly, is harmless and if it is any satisfaction to the doctors, they are entitled to it.

The American people are law respecting and law abiding people. The Chicago strikers seem to be overlooking this fact.

A sympathetic strike is destitute of moral support and always ends in defeat. The Chicago strike will be no exception to the rule.

The Ironsides club of Chicago paid a very flattering tribute to President Roosevelt, when they suggested that he be their candidate in 1908.

The labor leaders of Chicago will discover when they hear from the President, that he has no sympathy with mob rule or violence.

From present indications the legislature will adjourn about the first of June.

Possession, not profession, is the test of both wealth and character.

PRESS COMMENT.

Green Bay Gazette: Just think of it. It is time to make preparations for Memorial day and almost time to begin making arrangements for Fourth of July.

Marquette Eagle-Star: It is now reported that the governor has decided to go to Washington and reform the National government.

Madison Journal: In teaching "Uncle Ike" to unload, the assailant should have used what is called in the University "the conversational method."

Evening Wisconsin: The Chicago Tribune twits painfully close to facts in this paragraphic fling: "When in doubt as to the operation of any proposed law, brethren, try it on Wisconsin."

St. Louis Globe-Democrat: There are still two things that Glasgow does not do for its citizens: Pick out their neckties and their cigars. But Glasgow may have intentions.

Oshkosh Northwestern: The lumber dealers have showed up their prices because they claim that timber is getting scarce. This is the same old excuse that has served for the past twenty years.

Milwaukee Sentinel: A Chicago alleged lemon pie, bakery made was found to consist of starch paste and various coal tar products. The Chicago mince pie must be fearfully and wonderfully made.

Fond du Lac Commonwealth: The holding man who tackled "Uncle Ike" Stephenson Tuesday night will pick an easier victim next time. The "big stick" and an aversion to being touched anyhow, form a bad combination to go against.

Green Bay Gazette: The Janesville Gazette is wondering what will happen to Governor La Follette if the legislature adjourns without passing a railway rate bill. But the legislature is not going to adjourn until a bill of some sort has been doctored up and passed.

Fond du Lac Reporter: At Menasha it is proposed to fasten cuspidors on the telegraph poles so that when the anti-expectation ordinance is in effect tobacco chewers and others may not be inconvenienced. The question now arises, who will clean the spittoons? Perhaps the city fathers of Menasha will create the office of official cleaner.

Racine Journal: An eastern paper criticizes General Cronie and other prominent Boers exhibiting themselves in public, acting the dramatic episodes of the tragedy of their land, saying it has grated upon the sensibilities of the chivalrous south. But why, the poor fellows have to make a living in some way.

Albany Vindicator: An exchange says that the man who gets the fewest letters complains the most about the management of the postoffice; the man who complains the most of his neighbor is the meanest neighbor; and the man who has the least sense is the one who is most conceited; and it may also be added that the man who borrows his neighbor's paper has the most fault to find with the way it is run.

La Crosse Leader-Press: Green Bay has begun the campaign for better streets. The Advocate says the present sidewalks in the city "are a reminder of the good old days, frazzled along the edges and chipped between the cracks, that the nail heads reach up for your soft soles as you pass along and that the boards rise up and smite a man as he hurries for his car."

Appleton Post: Will Shakespeare's contempt for a mere name has often been justified but rarely, if ever, more so than by the following: Miss Death was brought to the German hospital in Philadelphia to be operated upon for appendicitis. She was a daughter, she said, of an undertaker. The name of the surgeon who was chosen to perform the operation was Dye—Dr. Frakfort Hagelot Dye. When the operation was over Miss Death was placed in charge of two nurses. Miss Payne was the night nurse. The patient recovered rapidly, and in a short time bade good-bye to Dr. Dye, Miss Payne and Miss Grono.

Exchange: Beet sugar in Wisconsin is growing. The farmers received $335,000 last year for their beets. But this is far less than the value of the Wisconsin tobacco crop, however, four millions. The four beet sugar factories produced over 27,000,000 pounds of white granulated sugar, the value of which was $1,363,200. The four factories receiving beets from Wisconsin farmers, located at Menomonee Falls, Janesville, Chippewa Falls and Menominee, Michigan, represent an investment of about $3,000,000, and during the season employ 882 hands. Over 6,774 Wisconsin farmers furnished beets to these factories last year from 14,400 acres planted with sugar beets.

Milwaukee Journal: Your grumbler never gets on. Nature in a sarcastic mood seems to have ordained that the persistent whiner shall want for everything except something to whine about. Disappointment sardonically meets him at every turn. Misfortune ever lurks in his shadow. The whiner is a signal-call to a thousand and one little demons of distress and disaster, which mock and lash, hinder and dishearten. Psychology has pretty well established the theory that ghosts are creations of the subjective mind—and trouble-finding is very much like ghost-seeing. You see blurs and blotches which if properly traced, will be found to begin and end their actual existence in your own eye or stomach or liver. There is nothing else you can look for with so much certainty of finding it as trouble. But have you never noticed that most of your troubles are of tomorrow that few of them are really present today, that there are hardly any worth mentioning in all your past? If anticipation did not go more than halfway to meet troubles most of them might miss their mark and never get near you.

Strong Japanese Woman. The people of Japan are from a very early age instructed in physical exercise, with the result that at maturity the women are almost as strong as the men. It is not an unusual sight to see a company of girls, who are strolling along a country road, step back a few yards for headway, and then, following a leader, alacrimably clear a five-foot fence by leaping over it.

Her Status. Not long ago a certain young man of this town went to publish the bans of his marriage with his best girl. On the sexton putting the question, "Is she a widow or spinster?" the young man replied, "No, sir; she is a fillet in a boot and shoe warehouse."—Birmingham (England) Post.

Big result for the money: a want ad.

Dr. Price's Baking Powder

Cream

Superlative in strength and purity

Improves the flavor and adds to the healthfulness of the food.

PRICE BAKING POWDER CO. CHICAGO.

NOTE.—There are imitation baking powders sold cheap by many grocers. They are made from alum, a poisonous drug, which renders the food injurious to health.

DID YOU EVER WONDER—

Why firemen are classed as louse supporters?

Why a home for old people isn't called an orphan asylum?

Why it is that you seldom see an old maid with auburn hair?

Why it is consoling to a widow to know that history repeats itself?

Why so many people question your answers when you answer their questions?

Why it is that all of the political rogues are to be found in the other party?

Why good-natured criticism is the only kind a man ever dishes out to himself?

Why a man loses interest in a subject the minute his argument is exhausted?

Why the man who runs the corner grocery declines to credit your good intentions?

Why it is impossible for any barber to work on any man's face without working his own?

Why the average man thinks it necessary to show his wife more courtesies abroad than at home?

Why it is impossible for a girl to write an affectionate love letter and chew gum at the same time?

Why love is said to be blind when a girl in love can see ten times more in the object of her affections than others can?

Why a woman should have two ears, and but one tongue when everybody knows that she would rather talk five hours than listen five minutes?

FOR LUCK.

A heart.
The lotus.
An anchor.
Any old coin.
An ivory elephant.
Egypt's sacred bull.
A Japanese monkey.
A bean carved in gold.
Beetle in chrysoprass.
A thimble in fairy size.
Four-leaf clover in enamel.
A love bird carved in ivory.
A dove carved in white coral.
Marble pendant of fine crystal.
A bit of Jap bronze inlaid with silver.
Quasimodo in exquisitely modeled rose gold.
The sphinx in miniature carved from a dull gray stone.
A vulture in silver, though to us these awful scavengers have nothing the meaning they have in many tropical countries.—Philadelphia Record.

Powerful Music.

Dr. Cottugno, the principal physician at Naples, told me, at the time of the extraordinary success of Rossini's Moise, that he had more than forty cases of brain fever or of violent convulsions, with which young females dotingly fond of music were seized, chiefly caused by the superb change of tone in the prayer of the Hebrews in the third act.—Athenium, 1823.

A good thing—a want ad.

A Correction.

The Tribune made "quite an error" in regard to the Swartz-Fischer wedding. The groom's name was Charles Wendt instead of George Swartz, and the wedding took place at the Lutheran church instead of at the bride's parents. We are sorry we made such an error, but are not altogether to blame for it as we were misinformed in regard to the occasion.—Montgomery Tribune.

Poisoned by Boiled Ham.

At Wellback, England, seventy-two persons were poisoned, with boiled ham that was served as a lunch, during an auction sale, by the proprietress of a neighboring hotel. Of these unfortunate, four died.—Scientific American.

Beautiful Enthusiasm!

Another Atchison girl has promised to love him till death. Good heavens, and she is only 16, and her ancestors all lived to be past 90!—Atchison Globe.

Read the want ads.

MYERS GRAND OPERA HOUSE

Peter L. Myers, Manager Telephone 609

Wednesday, May 17th

MISS FREDA SLEMONS and a splendid company of players presenting

An entirely NEW and ORIGINAL VERSION of the Immortal Play

EAST LYNNE.

PRICES—10c, 20c, 30c & 50 One lady free with every 50c ticket. Seats on sale Tuesday at 9 o'clock.

100 LATE TO CLASSIFY

Albustive, harmless, invisible Saffron Skin Complexion Powder is best for you, because it just under the skin.

STAYED OR STOLEN. Friday night—A 1904 Buick car, from No. 22 Harrison St. Suitable reward if returned.

WANTED. Two young men age 1 between 18 and 25 years, to take o.d.r. Must be hustlers. Inquire of Jell O. Shaw, Park Hotel.

Things Feminine.

Only the woman who thinks and says sweet things knows the value of a velvet tongue. Only the woman who looks with a kindly eye on her friends knows the power of a smile. And only the woman who makes a weapon of her tongue and a companion of her frown may ever fully appreciate the folly of feminine spite.—Exchange.

Sweet Little Fellow.

The sweet little fellow—He's with me all the day; He's with me in his trouble, He's with me in his play. And just because he's with me, Heaven don't seem far away! —Atlanta Constitution.

Maybe you want a want ad.

French Granite Ware, "SPECIAL"

3-Quart Milk Pans.....10c
1 1/2 Inch Wash Basins.....10c
Common Sense Sink Strainer.....10c
1 1/2 Qt. Pudding Pans.....10c
2 Qt. Pudding Pans.....10c
3-Quart Mixing Bowls.....10c
1 1/2 Quart Deep Stew Pans.....10c
2-Quart Deep Stew Pans.....10c
Remember the above are only 10c each.

We also carry a complete stock of other articles in Enamel and Granite Ware. The best goods at the lowest prices.

The NICHOLS CO.

Department Store, W. Milwaukee St.

75c Louisene Changeable Silks, 50c. 65c Foulard Silk, 50c.

Children's Dresses...

Extraordinary Values.

A manufacturer's sample line: Percale, Gingham, Linen and Dimity Dresses, white and colored, all at special discounts from standard values.

We have also received a sample line of

Silk Shirt Waist Suits Jap and Taffeta Waists Silk & Cravenette Coats Covert Coats

If you are interested in this line it will surely pay you to investigate as they are offered at much less than you could have them made for and have much more style to them.

Millinery...

New novelties every day. We will receive this week another new line of Patterns and Tailored Hats—exclusive ideas.

When grandma was a little girl, And was sent up to bed, She carried then a "tall-low dip," Held high above her head. Now when the sand-man comes for me, I like to have it bright, So I reach up and turn the key Of my electric light.

JANESVILLE CONTRACTING CO.,

On the Bridge.

HOSIERY BARGAINS.

Ladies' Lace Hose.....
Ladies' Ribbed Top Hose.....
Ladies' Plain Black Hose.....
Ladies' Fancy Hose.....
Children's Lace Hose.....
Men's Plain Black Hose.....
Men's Fancy Hose.....
Florida Water, 8-oz. bottle.....
Toilet Articles.....
Bay Rum, 8-oz. bottle.....
Which Hazel, 8-oz. bottle.....
Perfume, all kinds.....
Talcum Powder.....
Tooth Powder.....
Face Powder.....
Cold Cream.....

10 cts.

F. J. HINTERSCHIED,

515c & 10c Store 121 W. Milwaukee

Have You Any Pictures You Wish Framed?

If so, do not fail to call and see our line of mouldings.

Picture Framing is Our Specialty.

SAVINGS STORE,

3, 5, & 7 S. Jackson St.

WEST SIDE THEATRE

CLARENCE BURDICK. MANAGER.

One Week Beginning MONDAY, MAY 15TH.

MATINEE, 10c. 10c and 20c AT NIGHT.

The Big Show. Always A Hit.

Positively the Strongest List of Act Yet Presented

GEO. X. WILSON AND CAMILLE De MONVILLE, "THE MAN WITH THE TURKEY."

A Headliner Act "EMERSON" The Minstrel King. A Guaranteed Hit, GEO. & MAY WOODWARD, the Sun-burned Rubes.

The Koon Kadets, FOSTER & HENDERSON, the Best Colored Team in Vaudeville.

"Down by the Riverside," "In the Shades of an Old Apple Tree," Beautifully Illustrated, Sung by Janesville's Favorite, GEO. HATCH.

A Special Feature. ROUNDING UP THE "YEGG" BANK BURGLARS. Showing the methods of the "Hobo" Bank, Vault and Safe Burglar as described by William A. Pinkerton.

Open ten weeks and business still improving. If you are not a regular patron "GET IN LINE."

Another Big Act will appear on this bill. Announcement Later.

DIRE MESSAGE TO HEMINGWAY

EVANSVILLE WRITER THREATENS
COUNTY SUPERINTENDENT

WITH BLOWS FROM THE DARK

If He Fails to Grant Certain Diplomas in Which the Anonymous Personage Is Interested,

Is Charles H. Hemingway, county superintendent of schools for the first district of Rock county, doomed to fall by the hand of an assassin? That is precisely the fate that has been promised him by a mysterious Evansville writer signing himself as "Capt. J. Smart." The communication reached Mr. Hemingway yesterday. It is written on stationery of an anemic blood color and even the attitude of the stamp, jabbed viciously out of the envelope with the right hand corner of the contents' baleful portent. The author dissembles for a time and alludes in evasive language to the fate that has befallen Lincoln, Garfield, and other statesmen. Fearing for a moment, he acquiesces in his appointed victim with the sole means of escape—the giving of certain diplomas which he supposes are to be withheld. And then, openly, all efforts to disguise his intent being tossed aside, he hisses: "Pill me, and you shall soon be moldering in the clay! He doesn't spell 'moldering' correctly but this heathen rather than detracts from the terrible menace of his tone.

The Fearful Threat
Mr. Hemingway was interviewed this morning while at target-practice in the dooryard of his home on Bluff street. He had just punctured a penny twice at a distance of 150 yards and threw his smoking weapon aside with an expression of satisfaction that his aim was still good, as he came forward to greet the reporter. Though he discussed the matter with reluctance, the county superintendent finally admitted that he had received such a letter as the one described and permitted an inspection of it. The transcript made is as follows:

Evansville Wis May the 3-05
Now Mr. Hemingway if you do not act different to what you have done, your days will soon be numbered, you will get what some of our presidents got. There are people watching for you. Your little talk will not amount to much. So be sure and give diplomas and don't deceive them as you have done or you will be soon moldering in the clay, what are you but an ignorant upstart? You are fooling a good many out of their education, the likes of you will have to be punished in the dark, you remember I did lots of such work.

Capt. J. Smart
P. S. I want no more of your excuses.
Awards Are Impartial
If Supt. Hemingway finds it a wise precautionary measure to tout the country thereafter in an armored car, it will not be due to any injustice or wrong which he has done, but to the central diploma examination system which he has inaugurated each pupil is given a letter and number which he puts upon his paper. His name, number, and letter are sent to the superintendent but a committee consisting of one rural school teacher, one graded school teacher, and one high school principal, marks the papers. This committee does not know the name of the pupil—simply his letter and number. They return the standings to the superintendent and those who meet the requirements are given diplomas.

JANESVILLE SCHOOL LOSES THE DEBATE

Waukesha Victorious in Interscholastic Discussion There Last Evening.

In the interscholastic debate at Waukesha last evening between teams representing the Waukesha and Janesville high schools, Janesville was defeated, the vote of the jurors standing two to one without consultation. The negative arguments of the question, "Is the closed shop policy as advocated by the trades unions justifiable?" were presented by Janesville.

Their outline of attack was presented by their opening speaker under the following heads: The closed shop policy is contrary to the sense of the declaration of independence and the constitution of the country; it is monopolistic in that it controls the labor market; it is a blow at self-government as practiced in America; it denies members of the state militia the right to work and shuts out the negro from employment; it is not vital to the existence of the labor unions; the abuses of unions when formerly they have had control shows that their reign would be abusive; the closed shop policy restricts the amount of work that each man does and places the efficient workmen on a plane with the unskilled and in restricting the number of apprentices it, where in force, is rapidly diminishing the number of workmen and necessitating the importation of skilled laborers from out of the country.

The opening address for Janesville was given by Orville Swift, the second portion of the discussion and rebuttal were presented by Paul Porter and the last speech was delivered by Jerome Davis. The Waukesha debaters were Chester Griswold, Dexter White and Robert Montgomery. The judges were Judge Paul Carpenter of Milwaukee, Principal C. E. McLennan of the same city, who is also president of the State Teachers' association, and Prof. Carl Fish of the chair of American History in Wisconsin university.

Important Notice
Janesville sewer certificates of 12th sewerage district are now payable at Merchants & Mechanics' Savings bank from this date.

HANRAHAN & LINDQUIST CO.,
Sewer Contractors.

JANESVILLE CHOICE FOR THE CONVENTION

Theatre Managers and Bill Posters To Meet Here Next Year in May.

Manager Myers has returned from Madison where he attended the annual convention of the Theatre Managers & Wisconsin Bill Posters' association. Mr. Myers said that the question of opening a vaudeville circuit to compete with the strictly vaudeville houses was discussed and it was the sense of the theatre managers that such a plan would not be necessary, owing to the fact the largest business of these houses is done after the regular season for the playhouses closes. Janesville will have the next convention of these organizations, the vote of the conventions giving Janesville the choice over Milwaukee and La Crosse by four votes.

WEATHER
Temperature last 24 hours taken from U. S. registered thermometer at Helmreich's drugstore: highest, 75 above; lowest, 53 above; at 7 a. m., 55 above; at 3 p. m., 74 above; wind, southwest; sunshine and showers.

LODGE MEETINGS TONIGHT

America Rebekah Lodge No. 26, I. O. E., at East Side Odd Fellows' hall.
Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen at Assembly hall, Sunday.
Division No. 1, Ancient Order of Hibernians, at hall on Sunday.

FUTURE EVENTS

Vandeville at the West Side theatre this evening.
Musical comedy, "A Trip to Egypt," at Myers theatre afternoon and evening of Saturday, May 13.

LATE LOCAL NEWS IN BRIEF

St. Mary's Court No. 175, W. C. O. F., will give a May party in the Assembly hall Thursday, May 18th. Knelt & Hatch's orchestra. Those holding invitations to former parties are cordially invited.
Mr. Roy Carter will sing a solo at the Trinity church tomorrow morning.

The meeting for men at the Y. M. C. A. Sunday at 3 p. m. is open to all men. It affords a place for men to spend a pleasant and profitable hour from 3 to 4. Some special music, short practical talks and the social fellowship of the men is worthy the time and effort of every man. The special feature of an informal men's gathering gives special opportunity for every man. Your presence will emphasize your interest in the best things for the men of our community. Come and enjoy the hour.

WISCONSIN STATE LEAGUE

La Crosse 5, Oshkosh 4
La Crosse, Wis., May 12.—La Crosse won from Oshkosh Friday by hard and consecutive hitting. Bond, shortstop for La Crosse, was hit behind the ear by a pitched ball in the first inning and retired from the game. The game was called in the eighth inning to allow Oshkosh to catch a train. Attendance, 900. Score:

R. H. E.
La Crosse...1 0 0 0 0 4—5 8 5
Oshkosh...0 0 2 0 0 2—4 5 3
Batteries—Dodge and Dodge, Beebe and Moore.

Wausau 7, Beloit 3

Wausau, Wis., May 12.—Wausau defeated Beloit in the last game of the series by a score of 7 to 3. Wausau outplayed Beloit in every stage of the game. Attendance, 500. Score by innings:

R. H. E.
Beloit...0 0 3 0 0 0 0—3 3 6
Wausau...4 0 0 0 1 1 1—7 8 1
Batteries—Beloit, Rube, Mohr, and Buckwater; Wausau, Lee and Walton.

Freeport 3-5, Green Bay 1-3
Freeport, Ill., May 12.—Freeport defeated Green Bay Friday in both games of a double-header. Scores by innings:

FIRST GAME.
R. H. E.
Freeport...0 0 0 3 0 0 0—3 8 1
Green Bay...0 0 0 0 1 0 0—1 3 3
Batteries—Scheiberg and Karnell; Charles and Connors.

SECOND GAME.
R. H. E.
Freeport...4 0 1 1 0 0 0—6 11 3
Green Bay...1 0 1 0 0 1 0—3 7 3
Batteries—Scott and Karnell; Stauck and Connors.

Michigan 4, Wisconsin 3
Ann Arbor, May 12.—Michigan made it eleven straight victories Friday by defeating Wisconsin in the third game of the series with the Madison men. Frank Owen of the White Sox, watched the game, and Michigan rooters fear he may lasso Shortstop Campbell and drag him prematurely into professional baseball. Campbell cut off runs which would have given Wisconsin the game. The two teams met again this afternoon. Score:

R. H. E.
Michigan...1 1 0 2 0 0 0—4 8 5
Wisconsin...0 0 0 0 0 0 3—3 6 2
Batteries—Sanger and Taft, Cummings and Leahy.

RESULTS OF FRIDAY'S GAMES

National League.
Boston, 4; Chicago, 5 (11 innings). Batteries—Willis and Needham; Brown and O'Connell.
New York, 6; St. Louis, 5. Batteries—Willie and Bresnahan; Egan and Grady.
Philadelphia, 4; Pittsburgh, 6. Batteries—Pittenger, Caldwell and Doolin; Phillips and Carlsch.

American League.
Chicago, 2; New York, 7. Batteries—White and Sullivan; Orth and Killebrew.
Cleveland, 5; Washington, 3. Batteries—Joss and Buelow; Jacobson and Killebrew.
Detroit, 3; Boston, 1. Batteries—Killebrew and Sullivan; Whittier and Grigor.

St. Louis, 4; Philadelphia, 1. Batteries—Howell and Weaver; Hendry and Barton.
Indianapolis, 3; Louisville, 1. Batteries—Clemens and Smith; Phillips and Phillips.
St. Paul, 11; Kansas City, 5. Batteries—Clemens and Smith; Phillips and Phillips.
Bloomington, 5; Evansville, 1. Batteries—Clemens and Smith; Phillips and Phillips.
Dayton, 4; South Bend, 1. Batteries—Clemens and Smith; Phillips and Phillips.
Evansville, 10; Fort Wayne, 2. Batteries—Clemens and Smith; Phillips and Phillips.

SOCIETY.

Thursday evening the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Chesebro of Burr Oak was a scene of merriment and jollification. About half-past eight friends from far and near began to gather there to surprise Miss Amy E. Ross, daughter of W. M. Ross of Janesville, teacher of the Burr Oak school. It was a complete surprise, all due to the clever work of Mrs. Chesebro and her daughter Genevieve. After a little social chat and a short program, dancing and games were indulged in until the wee small hours of the morning. Music was furnished by Kealy's and Lay's orchestra. During the evening the party was favored with a violin solo by Mr. Peter Kealy of Edgerton, and by a speech on "Marriage" by Dr. C. W. Edgerton. About midnight a very tempting supper was served and when time for departure came all were glad to have been there.

David Conger, who has been ill and confined to his home for some time past, is so far recovered that he expects to be able to attend to his business next week.

A piano recital was given this afternoon by a number of the pupils of Mrs. Clarence L. Clark, at her residence, 112 Washington street. Those who took part were the Misses Ruth and Katherine Jeffris, Marian Matheson, Grace Estes, Jessie Menzies, Edith Workman, Dorothy Wilcox, Hazel Wilkerson, Marie Lejor, Helen Jeffris, Frank Lewis, Margaret Goodwin, Vera Nolan, Alice Estes, Mr. Frank Beers, and Misses Gladys Hodges, Lucy and Helen Estes. All acquitted themselves most creditably.

Dr. George Davis, a young man who formerly resided in Janesville, and Miss Ethel Simmons, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Thomas Simmons of Chicago, are to be wedded in the latter city on Sunday, June 4. The prospective groom is a son of George J. Davis, 159 South Main street, and is held in high esteem by a legion of friends in this city. He intends to locate in Delavan for medical practice.

The Beloit high school has an anti-poisoning society. The society, however, is founded by those who are not noted for their anti-poisoning proclivities and is not popular. It is thought that as a fail and a novelty the society may continue for a while.

Misses Adah Longley, Florence Spoon and Lella Soverhill were among those who went to Evansville today to witness the Janesville-Evansville interscholastic track meet.

Miss Mabel Anes and Miss May Holmes of Evansville, who are attending Beloit college, are over-Sunday visitors at the home of W. T. Flaherty.

Mrs. E. H. Zickler and two daughters are expected to arrive here from Chicago this evening.

Misses Mary E. Fox and Ida M. Fox went to Chicago last evening for a few days' visit.

Leo Howland will be the host of eight friends this evening at a box party at the Myers opera-house.

Miss Agnes Greening is spending Saturday and Sunday at her home in Whitewater.

Miss Myrtle Maltress of Edgerton is the guest of friends in the city.

Mrs. L. L. Leslie is visiting in Darlington.

Mr. and Mrs. John L. Wilcox have returned from their southern trip.

LOCAL BOYS TAKE PART IN PROGRAM

Janesville Youths on the Boards at West Side Theatre Last Evening.

Juvenile amateurs, in connection with the regular performance at the West Side theatre, furnished entertainment and amusement to a capacity house last evening. Clifford Davis, Michael Burns and others were heartily received in their jiggling stunts. Master Erickson, a promising young cornetist, also captured a share of the admiration of the audience. The regular bill this week is meeting with popular favor, the team of Carrollton & Hodges, "Seminole" singing and dancing artists, proving an unusually strong pair.

JURY ACQUITTED HAL REIFENBERG

Of Assault and Battery Charge After Ten Minutes' Deliberation Just Before Six Last Evening.

Hal Reifenberg was acquitted by the jury in municipal court after ten minutes' deliberation just before six o'clock yesterday afternoon. He was on trial on the charge of assault and battery preferred in behalf of Mrs. Mary Neimer, mother-in-law of Allie Razook. Thus ends a neighborhood quarrel which has been far from edifying in many of its aspects.

Oriental Rugs

Mr. Taminosian, being unable to attend to his customers today, has concluded to remain in Janesville at the Myers' house until Monday night. He will be glad to show his rugs to any who may call.

Notice

Hereafter the Woodruff farm will retain the milk and cream from their own herd of choice cows. The first wagon is now working the west side of the river. A wagon will be sent on the east side later. Rock County.

On, Shucks!
"I have a bright idea," said she
"I have a bright idea," said she
You have a bright idea, dear—by Gee,
Yes! You've got two!"

DELIGHTED WITH GREAT ORGANIST

Clarence Eddy's Wonderful Technical Skill and Powers of Expression
a Revelation to Music Lovers

(Continued.)
Two artists of conspicuous ability have appeared in Janesville this season—Mr. Eddy, the pianist, at Edgerton hall on February 27th, and last evening Mr. Clarence Eddy, the concert organist of international reputation, who gave a recital at the Congregational church before a fair-sized and most appreciative audience. Mr. Eddy played here at the dedication of the organ in the Presbyterian church ten years ago. To those who had not heard him before, Mr. Eddy's performance was a revelation, displaying as it did his wonderful technical skill both on keyboards and pedals and at the same time remarkable powers of expression, dignity, pathos, brilliancy, majestic breadth of conception well within his grasp and coming at his call. The program was a most exacting one, demanding a prodigious technique and rare interpretive skill. Aside from the heavier classical numbers "The Wedding Chimes" was a favorite, also the exquisite "Spring Song" by Hollins given as an encore number. Mr. Eddy demonstrated the capability of the two organs. Under his skillful handling they became as an orchestra with the special characteristics of the different instruments. The solo from the Haendel "Largo" given on the echo organ was most effective. All who attended the concert last evening must count themselves rarely fortunate in being able to hear one of the greatest of living organists.

NARROW ESCAPE FOR YOUNG HAL DOLAN

An Inch More and He Might Have Been Killed by a Heavy Ladder.

Had the ladder which struck Hal Dolan reached a few inches farther he would have been killed. Such was the verdict of the spectators who witnessed the sad accident on the bridge shortly before noon today. Hal Dolan, an employee of the North-Western freighthouse, was riding his wheel across the bridge when a heavy extension ladder used in hanging some new awnings in front of the tea store, fell onto the street and caught him on the left shoulder, breaking the collar-bone and gnashing his face severely. A scant inch or so farther and he would have been instantly killed by the heavy beams. He was quickly picked up and taken to the carpenter room of Bort, Bailey & Co.'s, where medical aid was summoned and he was later taken to his home, 161 Cherry street. Young Dolan had just been to the bank to obtain a draft and was making haste back to the office when injured.

TWO YEARS FOR A HORSE THEIF

George Weston, Who Disposed of Rig Belonging to Kemmerer Livery, Pleaded Guilty in Court.

For stealing a horse and buggy valued at $150 from Charles Kemmerer yesterday, George Weston will spend two years in the state's prison at Waupun. The man was one of eight picture salesmen who have been in the city for several days past. He had had a rig on the day previous and the management of the local stables had no hesitancy in letting him have another at 7:30 yesterday morning. According to the story that the prisoner told Judge Pilefield this afternoon, he had been driving through the country, when he came to a sign-post stating that Whitewater was only a few miles distant. He decided to go thither and upon reaching that city put up at the Hotel Courtyard. At the bar he got to shaking dice and drinking and fell into conversation with some men who were trading horses. After eating his dinner it occurred to him to make a trade and he made terms with a man named Ducher, receiving another horse and buggy and harness and $14 in cash. It appears that while the trade was going on a spectator by the name of Michael Ward became suspicious that the property belonged in Janesville and called up Alderman Sheridan by telephone, giving a description of the outfit. Mr. Sheridan suspected from this description that it was a horse from the Kemmerer livery and got in communication with the proprietor with the result that the latter at once phoned to Chief of Police Holmes to arrest the man. In the meantime, however, Watson had taken his departure for Milwaukee on the 5:30 train and Chief Holmes wired the officers at Waukesha to meet the train. The found Weston on the rear car and took him to the Waukesha jail. Messrs. Kemmerer and C. R. Wikom went to Whitewater last night and identified the stolen property. Weston was brought here at two this afternoon. He gave his age as 30 years, and said that he was unmarried and had no near relatives. His home had been in New York state. The man did not look like a hardened criminal and on his plea of guilty Judge Pilefield gave him as light a sentence as was possible for so serious a crime.

Japanese Lanterns.
A clever woman has discovered a new use for the decorative Japanese lanterns, and her friends are following her example. She uses them for lampshades, simply hanging them over a wire extender that keeps them from touching the chimney.

Largest Pontoon Bridge.

The largest pontoon bridge in the world is at Calcutta, and is a permanent structure.

Secret of Happiness.

I have lived to know that the secret of happiness is never to allow your energies to stagnate.—Adam Clarke.

Ocean Extremes.

The hottest and coldest months for the ocean are August and February.

REV. HENDERSON TO LEAVE JANESVILLE

Has Resigned Pastorate Here to Accept
Call from Church of Mer-iam Park, Near St. Paul, Minn.

Rev. J. T. Henderson has resigned the pastorate of the First Presbyterian church of this city to accept a call from the Presbyterian congregation at Meriam Park, a large suburban community located between St. Paul and Minneapolis. The resignation has been accepted and will take effect on the 28th of this month. He has been the pastor of the local church since the first Sunday in June, 1900. His departure will be regretted.

OBITUARY NEWS

In the passing of Mrs. Orson Cox of Fulton on May 8, Rock county lost one of its most respected and highly honored mothers and wives and a pioneer settler of southern Wisconsin. In 1844 at the age of sixteen she came to Fulton from her native town in New York state and two years later was married. She is survived by two sons, H. W. and W. H. Cox, of Indian Ford, Albert Allen of Kilbourne City, Wis., and a sister, Mrs. James Quinn of Lima Springs, Iowa. Her death was the result of an attack of pneumonia two years ago, never having fully recovered.

MRS. ORSON COX

Mrs. Flora Doty
The remains of the late Mrs. Flora Doty arrived here from Austin last evening and funeral services were held from the home of Lee Beers this morning at ten o'clock. Rev. R. M. Vaughan officiating. The pallbearers were L. C. Beers, C. P. Beers, Lean Beers, Charles L. Fifeled, Maurice Doty and Louis Doty. Burial was in Oak Hill cemetery. Those who accompanied the remains here were four children of the deceased: Louis, Maurice, Mabel and Ella Doty.

Ole Paulson
Funeral services over the remains of the late Ole Paulson will be held tomorrow afternoon at half-past two o'clock from the Norwegian Lutheran church at the corner of West Bluff and Madison streets. Rev. Kvale will conduct the ceremony in English. Burial will be in Oak Hill cemetery.

Dennis C. Burdick
The funeral of the late Dennis C. Burdick will be held from the home on South Franklin street, Monday morning at half-past ten o'clock instead of ten as formerly announced, the change being made because the relatives from Edgerton being unable to reach the city by ten.

John Henry Schmitz
Funeral services over the remains of the late John Henry Schmitz will be held from the home at the corner of Park and Western avenues tomorrow afternoon at half-past two o'clock. Interment will be in Oak Hill cemetery.

John Lavin
From St. Patrick's church Monday morning at ten o'clock will be held the funeral of the late John Lavin. Interment will be in Mount Olivet cemetery.

STREET RAILWAY CO. IS FULFILLING ITS PROMISE

New, Heavy Rails Are Being Installed on Portions of the Main Streets.
That Are to Be Paved.

Street railway improvements announced by the Gazette several weeks ago as forthcoming, are now underway. A crew of men under the supervision of Supt. William Murphy is at work on Milwaukee street between Academy and High and on the Academy street curve, laying the new 62-pound steel rails and the same quality of rail will be laid on South Main street. When the "Y" is installed at the South Main street corner the company will be enabled to furnish a twenty-minute service to all points.

Have Declared Open Shop

On account of not being able to make satisfactory arrangements with the union carpenters in the matter of the advance of the minimum wage demanded by them, the following firms and individual building contractors of Janesville have resolved: That, on and after Monday, May 15, 1905, we will conduct our business under what is termed "open shop" and are willing to pay competent workmen as good wages as are paid in surrounding cities.

BLAIR & SUMMERS,
COLLING & WRAY,
FLOYD HURD,
G. F. BARRAGE,
EDWARD DONEHOE,
J. A. DENNING,
E. E. VAN POOL,
F. C. STENDEL,
KELLY & MASON,
C. W. DAILEY,
KNOX & HAZEN,
J. E. SIEWERT,
A. P. WRIGHT.

Ocean Extremes.

The hottest and coldest months for the ocean are August and February.

NEWS OF A PERSONAL NATURE

Miss Frieda Koehn left at 7:15 this morning for a four weeks' sojourn with her parents at Schenksville, Ill. James Dece went to Chicago this morning for a few days' visit.
E. Drake and James Fitzgerald of Monroe were Janesville visitors yesterday.
William Flock leaves Monday for a visit at his former home in La Crosse. J. J. Sheridan went to Evansville this noon.

AUTOMOBILES ARE NOT TO BE ASSESSED AT FACTORY PRICE

Local Assessors Who Are at Present
Listing Them, Will Allow For Wear.

Automobiles of Janesville will be assessed, not at the factory prices, but at their estimated value as second-hand machines. Assessors C. B. Conrad and Martin Dunn are listing the puff-wagons and expect to have them all "noted" within a very few days. One is reported to have cost its owner $2,000 and there are several valued at over $1,000.

This Is Truly,
Some have no respect for truth,
And frequently abuse it,
While others have all due respect,
But very seldom use it.

NEW MYERS.

Sunday Dinner, May 14th.

Served from 1 o'clock to 2:30 oclock p. m.

Price. - - 50c.

Cream of Tomato

Relishes Green Onions Lettuce

Olives Chervins

Broiled Lake Whitefish Maitre d'Hotel

Saratoga Chips

Roast Native Beef au Jus

Baked Chicken Pie Family Style

Roast Spring Lamb Mint Sauce

Blackberry Cordial

Larded Tenderloin of Beef au Champignons

Veal Cakes Tunch Peas

Cocoanut Fritters Maple Dip

Cucumber and Tomato Salad

Mashed Potatoes Asparagus in Cream

New Wax Beans

Steamed Potatoes Succotash

Apple Pie

Lemon Meringue Pie

Strawberry Short Cake

Whipped Cream

Pineapple Ice Cream

Lemon Jelly Cake Chocolate Cake

Angel Food

American Cheese Edam Cheese

Mixed Nuts

Wheat Rye and Graham Bread

Tea Coffee Milk Cocoa

Are You Interested In Wall Papers?

Is so you are interested in the cost of it. Call and let us convince you that you can buy wall-papers, mouldings, plate and card rail, etc., cheaper of us than any place in the city. Don't fail to see

LINOWALL AND SANITAS.

The latest wall coverings for dining-rooms, halls, etc., take the place of burlap, comes in handsome colorings and exclusive designs. Our stock is all new and it includes the most up-to-date goods to be obtained. Papers from the cheapest to the best at lowest prices. Decorating in all its branches.

BURGESS & EVANS

White Front. Corp Exchange

17 lbs. Granulated Sugar $1.00

Golden Palace Flour

$1.45

White Star Flour

$1.40

DON'T TRAVEL

A long distance telephone in your home or office will save many hours of valuable time, many dollars which travelling would cost, and enables you to talk to people all over the country.

Ask local manager for rates.

WISCONSIN TELEPHONE CO.

a. m.; second mass, 10:30 a. m.; evening devotion, 7:30 p. m.; Sunday school, 9:00 a. m. Rev. Wm. A. Goebel, pastor.

St. Peter's English Lutheran church—Jackson and Center Sts. W. P. Christy, pastor. Services, 10:30 a. m. and 7:30 p. m.; Sunday school, 9:30 a. m.; Luther league, 6:30 p. m. All are welcome.

Trinity church—Holy eucharist, 7:30 a. m.; matins and sermon, 10:30; Sunday school, 12; evensong and sermon, 7 p. m.; saints days by announcement. Herbert C. Boissier, rector.

o'clock in the morning. Rev. Geo. Crandall officiated. The ceremony was witnessed by Dr. and Mrs. Westcott Rogers, brother of the bride, and Miss Madeline O'Brien of Milwaukee and J. H. Owen and wife. Mr. and Mrs. Chambers went immediately to New York state where they will spend two or three weeks visiting his brother and relatives, also friends of the bride.

K. C. Waxwell wondered what it meant when relatives and friends to the number of thirty came in unannounced on Thursday evening. The soon informed him he had reached the fifty-fifth milestone in life's journey. The evening was very pleasant.

Aspirin, but practice has shown that it is not a cure for rheumatism. I am a doctor, and I am interested that to "Orinone" belongs the credit for this cure. I am glad to be able to acknowledge the value of a remedy which brings results so beneficial. Yours very truly,
F. W. PALMER,
 Public Printer.

Take Orinone quickly at home!

To cure without patient's knowledge, buy Orinone No. 1 for vaginal treatment; buy Orinone No. 2. Price, $1.00 per Box.

Cure effected or money refunded.

Book on "Drinckmann's" (sealed) from Orinone mailed (sealed) on receipt of $1.00 by The Orinone Co., Inc., Washington, D. C.

Build and recommended by
SMITH'S PHARMACY,
 Next Old Postoffice. Janesville

Whom It May Concern:

The common council of the city of Nashville, having determined that during the ensuing year sewers be constructed and paid for by special assessment upon the following named streets, to-wit:

In Sewerage District No. 5: On _____ street from Pleasant street to Holmes street; on Pleasant street from Chatham street to Palm street; and on Chatham street from Mineral point avenue to the man-hole about _____ of foot north.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that the street assessment committee, acting as a board of public said sewerage districts.

Notice is further given that at least one day prior to such hearing the street assessment committee make and file, in the city clerk's office, a table intelligibly exhibiting sums to be assessed on all the parts of lots and parcels of land in each of said sewerage districts, which table shall be open to public inspection.

J. F. HUTCHINSON,
C. V. KERCH.
W. A. MURRAY,
W. H. MERRITT,
JOHN J. DULIN,
Street Assessment Committee

SHORT LINE
Louisville & Nashville
Railroad
 FROM
 Cincinnati and Louisville
 TO KNOXVILLE.
 TWO TRAINS DAILY
 FROM EACH CITY
 Through Coaches, Buffet
 Parlor Cars and Pullman Sleeping Cars
 For Folders, Maps or other information address
C. L. STONE, Gen'l Pass.
Agt., Louisville, Ky.

The Witch of Cragenstone

By ANITA CLAY MUNOZ.

Author of "In Love and Truth"

CHAPTER XXIII.

ALL the long night that preceded the arrest and imprisonment of her cousin Margaret, Hetty Taunston did not sleep, but tossed from side to side of her bed in nervous terror of the news she had just heard from Josiah of Margaret's sad fate. When, after much trouble, she was brought to her senses after losing consciousness in the barn, she had embraced her mother and brother to allow her to remain with them, as on this fearful night she was afraid to be alone, but they sent her from them with harsh words.

"Get the white, white faced wench out of my sight!" Josiah commanded roughly. "Instead of acting at this time as a support to her brother, that she do know seeketh ever to do his duty in the sight of God and man, she doth go about as a reproach, with dull eyes and sickly pallor. Pah! The sight of her riles me!"

At her mother's sharp bidding, Hetty went to her room, not daring to refuse, and lay with eyes wide open, listening to the monotonous murmuring of the voices of her mother and Josiah, who, seated before the kitchen fire, conversed in low tones until a late hour in the night. Once for a short time she lost consciousness, but at the first gray streak of light across the horizon line she crept softly out of bed and went down into the dooryard.

Early as it was, she found her brother there before her, coming around from the barn, leading his horse. Never in all Hetty's young life had she been so harassed and her mind so filled with terror. Such awful tales as she had heard constantly of the evil doings of the cousin she loved kept her heart heavy with a sense of trouble, and her little head fairly ached with bewilderment and wonder how to reconcile the fact of a woman so pure as Margaret being in connivance with so much wickedness.

When Josiah saw her he exclaimed in vexed tones:

"Out upon thee, sad face!"

Then possibly the sight of her suffering, showing so plainly in the pallor and lines of her face, touched some small spot in his heart that was good or stirred his conscience, for when she ran to him and clutched the bridle rein, imploring him to save their cousin Margaret, he did not push her away nor could he meet her glance, but moved unceasingly in his saddle.

"Josiah, dear brother, an thou wouldst let me speak with Elder Williams of the council, happen I would have influence 'til him."

"Ho, ho! Thine influence!" Josiah laughed scornfully. "Going in public against thy brother! A dutiful sister, prithee, to make my boasts on!"

Here his manner changed, growing stern and commanding.

"Thou'rt to stay here, faint heart, an' mind the house! I faith, I'll have a care that with so much important work on hand we have no swooning scenes 'til silly wench."

As he finished speaking a man, one of the horse boys at the Sign of the Red Heart, came swiftly up the pathway.

"Master Taunston," he said, panting slightly, "I ha' come w' news! The witch's lover hath fled!"

"Gone," Josiah ejaculated in surprise.

"Aye," he found that she stole away 'til night, the man replied.

"Here's a crown, Tobias, for 'tis good news that thou hast brought," Taunston cried exultantly. "The white livered poltroon hath great influence at court, and his detention might have brought us trouble. Once down the mountain we will see that he doth not return again until the evil woman we seek to punish hath received her just deserts."

He gave spurs to his horse. Hetty's breath came in gasps as she stood with her hands clasped over her heart watching her brother and brother to allow her to remain with them, as on this fearful night she was afraid to be alone, but they sent her from them with harsh words.

He gave spurs to his horse. Hetty's breath came in gasps as she stood with her hands clasped over her heart watching her brother and brother to allow her to remain with them, as on this fearful night she was afraid to be alone, but they sent her from them with harsh words.

He gave spurs to his horse. Hetty's breath came in gasps as she stood with her hands clasped over her heart watching her brother and brother to allow her to remain with them, as on this fearful night she was afraid to be alone, but they sent her from them with harsh words.

He gave spurs to his horse. Hetty's breath came in gasps as she stood with her hands clasped over her heart watching her brother and brother to allow her to remain with them, as on this fearful night she was afraid to be alone, but they sent her from them with harsh words.

He gave spurs to his horse. Hetty's breath came in gasps as she stood with her hands clasped over her heart watching her brother and brother to allow her to remain with them, as on this fearful night she was afraid to be alone, but they sent her from them with harsh words.

He gave spurs to his horse. Hetty's breath came in gasps as she stood with her hands clasped over her heart watching her brother and brother to allow her to remain with them, as on this fearful night she was afraid to be alone, but they sent her from them with harsh words.

He gave spurs to his horse. Hetty's breath came in gasps as she stood with her hands clasped over her heart watching her brother and brother to allow her to remain with them, as on this fearful night she was afraid to be alone, but they sent her from them with harsh words.

He gave spurs to his horse. Hetty's breath came in gasps as she stood with her hands clasped over her heart watching her brother and brother to allow her to remain with them, as on this fearful night she was afraid to be alone, but they sent her from them with harsh words.

He gave spurs to his horse. Hetty's breath came in gasps as she stood with her hands clasped over her heart watching her brother and brother to allow her to remain with them, as on this fearful night she was afraid to be alone, but they sent her from them with harsh words.

He gave spurs to his horse. Hetty's breath came in gasps as she stood with her hands clasped over her heart watching her brother and brother to allow her to remain with them, as on this fearful night she was afraid to be alone, but they sent her from them with harsh words.

He gave spurs to his horse. Hetty's breath came in gasps as she stood with her hands clasped over her heart watching her brother and brother to allow her to remain with them, as on this fearful night she was afraid to be alone, but they sent her from them with harsh words.

He gave spurs to his horse. Hetty's breath came in gasps as she stood with her hands clasped over her heart watching her brother and brother to allow her to remain with them, as on this fearful night she was afraid to be alone, but they sent her from them with harsh words.

He gave spurs to his horse. Hetty's breath came in gasps as she stood with her hands clasped over her heart watching her brother and brother to allow her to remain with them, as on this fearful night she was afraid to be alone, but they sent her from them with harsh words.

He gave spurs to his horse. Hetty's breath came in gasps as she stood with her hands clasped over her heart watching her brother and brother to allow her to remain with them, as on this fearful night she was afraid to be alone, but they sent her from them with harsh words.

He gave spurs to his horse. Hetty's breath came in gasps as she stood with her hands clasped over her heart watching her brother and brother to allow her to remain with them, as on this fearful night she was afraid to be alone, but they sent her from them with harsh words.

He gave spurs to his horse. Hetty's breath came in gasps as she stood with her hands clasped over her heart watching her brother and brother to allow her to remain with them, as on this fearful night she was afraid to be alone, but they sent her from them with harsh words.

He gave spurs to his horse. Hetty's breath came in gasps as she stood with her hands clasped over her heart watching her brother and brother to allow her to remain with them, as on this fearful night she was afraid to be alone, but they sent her from them with harsh words.

He gave spurs to his horse. Hetty's breath came in gasps as she stood with her hands clasped over her heart watching her brother and brother to allow her to remain with them, as on this fearful night she was afraid to be alone, but they sent her from them with harsh words.

He gave spurs to his horse. Hetty's breath came in gasps as she stood with her hands clasped over her heart watching her brother and brother to allow her to remain with them, as on this fearful night she was afraid to be alone, but they sent her from them with harsh words.

He gave spurs to his horse. Hetty's breath came in gasps as she stood with her hands clasped over her heart watching her brother and brother to allow her to remain with them, as on this fearful night she was afraid to be alone, but they sent her from them with harsh words.

He gave spurs to his horse. Hetty's breath came in gasps as she stood with her hands clasped over her heart watching her brother and brother to allow her to remain with them, as on this fearful night she was afraid to be alone, but they sent her from them with harsh words.

He gave spurs to his horse. Hetty's breath came in gasps as she stood with her hands clasped over her heart watching her brother and brother to allow her to remain with them, as on this fearful night she was afraid to be alone, but they sent her from them with harsh words.

He gave spurs to his horse. Hetty's breath came in gasps as she stood with her hands clasped over her heart watching her brother and brother to allow her to remain with them, as on this fearful night she was afraid to be alone, but they sent her from them with harsh words.

He gave spurs to his horse. Hetty's breath came in gasps as she stood with her hands clasped over her heart watching her brother and brother to allow her to remain with them, as on this fearful night she was afraid to be alone, but they sent her from them with harsh words.

He gave spurs to his horse. Hetty's breath came in gasps as she stood with her hands clasped over her heart watching her brother and brother to allow her to remain with them, as on this fearful night she was afraid to be alone, but they sent her from them with harsh words.

He gave spurs to his horse. Hetty's breath came in gasps as she stood with her hands clasped over her heart watching her brother and brother to allow her to remain with them, as on this fearful night she was afraid to be alone, but they sent her from them with harsh words.

He gave spurs to his horse. Hetty's breath came in gasps as she stood with her hands clasped over her heart watching her brother and brother to allow her to remain with them, as on this fearful night she was afraid to be alone, but they sent her from them with harsh words.

deserts. Hetty, see that thou doth my bidding," he said roughly, pushing her from out of his way with the handle of his whip. "Spring up behind, Tobias; we'll ride to the inn. Dost not hear shouting? Methinks already the village is astir!"

He gave spurs to his horse. Hetty's breath came in gasps as she stood with her hands clasped over her heart watching her brother and brother to allow her to remain with them, as on this fearful night she was afraid to be alone, but they sent her from them with harsh words.

Heart sick, bewildered and bitterly disappointed, with all her romantic illusions dispelled, Hetty covered up her face, and a remembrance of the preacher's warnings and words against the wicked fashionable men of the gay cities and their deceiving ways, also her mother's sinister predictions concerning La Fabienne's delicate love for Margaret, came to her. Her heart fluttered painfully in a perfect turmoil of agitation, distress and absolute conviction. Yes, it must be true, and the idol she had set up on such a high pedestal above all others had tumbled to the ground and fallen in pieces at her feet.

How cold the gray dawn was! She shivered slightly and with a quick motion drew her kerchief closer about her white throat. How friendless and alone she felt, for the first time in her life at odds with her mother and brother and for their foolish vanity and proud airs totally ignored and forgotten by her old comrade and lover, Simon Kempster! As her sad thoughts turned to him she sprang to her feet and looked down the mountain in the direction of his house. Was he, like the others, preparing in grim enjoyment to go to the Mayland farm to see Margaret accused and taken? She shook her head in the negative. Surely one so good and stout of heart as Simon could not believe that sweet Margaret would so lightly connive with the devil to wreak harm on others! Whirling her hands distractedly, the girl walked to the little gate before the house. Was that a wreath of smoke curling out of the new fashioned stone chimney that Simon had so lately and with such pride built out on the side of his kitchen, or was it only the mist rising?

Hetty gazed wistfully in the direction of the white cloud for a few moments, then, throwing up her head with a great show of indifference, retraced her steps to the door and sank down upon the wooden bench. But a strong feeling of unrest was upon her, for soon she was at the gate again. Then, as an impulse seized her, she ran down the roadway toward Simon's house.

On, on she sped, so fast one would suppose she was afraid her pride might urge her to turn back again, holding up her light skirts as she went. The fresh morning breeze tossed her hair about and, with its rough caresses, brought the real color back to her pale face. Once or twice it grew so strong and pushed against her with such force that one might think it had no sympathy with her project and wished to push her backward, but she ran on.

Here's a crown, Tobias, for 'tis good news that thou hast brought," Taunston cried exultantly. "The white livered poltroon hath great influence at court, and his detention might have brought us trouble. Once down the mountain we will see that he doth not return again until the evil woman we seek to punish hath received her just deserts."

He gave spurs to his horse. Hetty's breath came in gasps as she stood with her hands clasped over her heart watching her brother and brother to allow her to remain with them, as on this fearful night she was afraid to be alone, but they sent her from them with harsh words.

He gave spurs to his horse. Hetty's breath came in gasps as she stood with her hands clasped over her heart watching her brother and brother to allow her to remain with them, as on this fearful night she was afraid to be alone, but they sent her from them with harsh words.

He gave spurs to his horse. Hetty's breath came in gasps as she stood with her hands clasped over her heart watching her brother and brother to allow her to remain with them, as on this fearful night she was afraid to be alone, but they sent her from them with harsh words.

He gave spurs to his horse. Hetty's breath came in gasps as she stood with her hands clasped over her heart watching her brother and brother to allow her to remain with them, as on this fearful night she was afraid to be alone, but they sent her from them with harsh words.

He gave spurs to his horse. Hetty's breath came in gasps as she stood with her hands clasped over her heart watching her brother and brother to allow her to remain with them, as on this fearful night she was afraid to be alone, but they sent her from them with harsh words.

He gave spurs to his horse. Hetty's breath came in gasps as she stood with her hands clasped over her heart watching her brother and brother to allow her to remain with them, as on this fearful night she was afraid to be alone, but they sent her from them with harsh words.

He gave spurs to his horse. Hetty's breath came in gasps as she stood with her hands clasped over her heart watching her brother and brother to allow her to remain with them, as on this fearful night she was afraid to be alone, but they sent her from them with harsh words.

He gave spurs to his horse. Hetty's breath came in gasps as she stood with her hands clasped over her heart watching her brother and brother to allow her to remain with them, as on this fearful night she was afraid to be alone, but they sent her from them with harsh words.

He gave spurs to his horse. Hetty's breath came in gasps as she stood with her hands clasped over her heart watching her brother and brother to allow her to remain with them, as on this fearful night she was afraid to be alone, but they sent her from them with harsh words.

He gave spurs to his horse. Hetty's breath came in gasps as she stood with her hands clasped over her heart watching her brother and brother to allow her to remain with them, as on this fearful night she was afraid to be alone, but they sent her from them with harsh words.

He gave spurs to his horse. Hetty's breath came in gasps as she stood with her hands clasped over her heart watching her brother and brother to allow her to remain with them, as on this fearful night she was afraid to be alone, but they sent her from them with harsh words.

He gave spurs to his horse. Hetty's breath came in gasps as she stood with her hands clasped over her heart watching her brother and brother to allow her to remain with them, as on this fearful night she was afraid to be alone, but they sent her from them with harsh words.

He gave spurs to his horse. Hetty's breath came in gasps as she stood with her hands clasped over her heart watching her brother and brother to allow her to remain with them, as on this fearful night she was afraid to be alone, but they sent her from them with harsh words.

He gave spurs to his horse. Hetty's breath came in gasps as she stood with her hands clasped over her heart watching her brother and brother to allow her to remain with them, as on this fearful night she was afraid to be alone, but they sent her from them with harsh words.

He gave spurs to his horse. Hetty's breath came in gasps as she stood with her hands clasped over her heart watching her brother and brother to allow her to remain with them, as on this fearful night she was afraid to be alone, but they sent her from them with harsh words.

He gave spurs to his horse. Hetty's breath came in gasps as she stood with her hands clasped over her heart watching her brother and brother to allow her to remain with them, as on this fearful night she was afraid to be alone, but they sent her from them with harsh words.

He gave spurs to his horse. Hetty's breath came in gasps as she stood with her hands clasped over her heart watching her brother and brother to allow her to remain with them, as on this fearful night she was afraid to be alone, but they sent her from them with harsh words.

He gave spurs to his horse. Hetty's breath came in gasps as she stood with her hands clasped over her heart watching her brother and brother to allow her to remain with them, as on this fearful night she was afraid to be alone, but they sent her from them with harsh words.

He gave spurs to his horse. Hetty's breath came in gasps as she stood with her hands clasped over her heart watching her brother and brother to allow her to remain with them, as on this fearful night she was afraid to be alone, but they sent her from them with harsh words.

He gave spurs to his horse. Hetty's breath came in gasps as she stood with her hands clasped over her heart watching her brother and brother to allow her to remain with them, as on this fearful night she was afraid to be alone, but they sent her from them with harsh words.

He gave spurs to his horse. Hetty's breath came in gasps as she stood with her hands clasped over her heart watching her brother and brother to allow her to remain with them, as on this fearful night she was afraid to be alone, but they sent her from them with harsh words.

He gave spurs to his horse. Hetty's breath came in gasps as she stood with her hands clasped over her heart watching her brother and brother to allow her to remain with them, as on this fearful night she was afraid to be alone, but they sent her from them with harsh words.

He gave spurs to his horse. Hetty's breath came in gasps as she stood with her hands clasped over her heart watching her brother and brother to allow her to remain with them, as on this fearful night she was afraid to be alone, but they sent her from them with harsh words.

He gave spurs to his horse. Hetty's breath came in gasps as she stood with her hands clasped over her heart watching her brother and brother to allow her to remain with them, as on this fearful night she was afraid to be alone, but they sent her from them with harsh words.

He gave spurs to his horse. Hetty's breath came in gasps as she stood with her hands clasped over her heart watching her brother and brother to allow her to remain with them, as on this fearful night she was afraid to be alone, but they sent her from them with harsh words.

He gave spurs to his horse. Hetty's breath came in gasps as she stood with her hands clasped over her heart watching her brother and brother to allow her to remain with them, as on this fearful night she was afraid to be alone, but they sent her from them with harsh words.

He gave spurs to his horse. Hetty's breath came in gasps as she stood with her hands clasped over her heart watching her brother and brother to allow her to remain with them, as on this fearful night she was afraid to be alone, but they sent her from them with harsh words.

He gave spurs to his horse. Hetty's breath came in gasps as she stood with her hands clasped over her heart watching her brother and brother to allow her to remain with them, as on this fearful night she was afraid to be alone, but they sent her from them with harsh words.

"I am cold," she said shiveringly.

"The morning at sunrise there is apt to be a chill 'til the air," Simon said indifferently. "Dost wear no woolen about thee?"

He looked around the room. Hetty hastily put out her hand to prevent his rising.

"Nay, get me nothing." She sighed a gentle, gutturing sigh. "The bright fire on thy hearth, Simon, hath already warmed me."

Kempster regarded the small, graceful figure in its gray dress and white kerchief, kneeling there in the glare of the fire so close to him, with pain tingling at his heart and suspicion in his mind. Was this a new mood—just another of her tantalizing ways? Had she come back only to worry and torment him? Hetty, glancing up, met his quiet glance.

"When thou'rt ready to go," he remarked, with stilled coldness. "happen I can find a woolen for thee."

At his words her heart sank within her. Of a certain he had ceased to love her, so she would speak of other matters.

"Thank thee, Simon. When I go an I am a trifle warmer I will take it."

Then, as he did not speak, she added mournfully, "Simon, didst know that the council hath ordered our Margaret to the prison?"

"Yea, the fearsome news hath reached me."

"An' that the man she loved better than her life hath deserted her in her hour of need?"

Kempster sat erect with a sudden start.

"The courtier, Sir Godfrey La Fabienne?" he asked in surprise.

She choked back a sob.

"None other, as thou knowest! Ah, lackaday, bonny Margaret!"

"Thy news doth surprise me," he said quietly, "as the knight had ever an open countenance and a manly bearing. But I ween 'tis not uncommon for love to grow between a man and woman all on one side."

Hetty laid a supplicating hand on his arm.

Simon's breath came quickly, but his voice was stern as he said: "Hast not better take a chair? Thou'lt find but poor comfort on the floor."

"Nay, Simon," she cried tearfully, "be not so churlish to thine old play-time friend! Hast forgotten Hetty, little Hetty Taunston, who when thou wert but a lad, long before thy mother died, did rise at break of day to meet her at the bars and help her drive the cows to grass?"

Simon turned his eyes toward her and regarded searchingly the sweet upturned face. What new coquetry was this? He set his teeth and steeled his heart against her.

"Such pleasant friendship as hath ever been between us, Simon," she began in a low voice, hesitatingly, "should not be broken off forever for want of a word of explanation. Simon, I—I remember the words thou didst speak to me that day 'til the dairy, when I was so set up because a coward courtier—a man who covered his black heart with fine raiment and wore a gallant bearing to deceive folk—did remark about my beauty that I flouted thee and did scorn the offer of thy honest heart and faithful love."

Kempster regarded her seriously, anxiously; once he reached out his hand toward her, but drew it back hastily.

"So proud was I, an' so full of idle dreams of a gay life in Paris that at the time I scarce did miss thee," she continued, "but anon I became lonely, dissatisfied, unhappy and did not realize what I had done until I met the quiet scorn of thy glance and knew myself for the foolish, worthless maid that I was. Simon," she cried softly, "thou hast me to learn that I had lost the regard of one good man; my heart ached, an' I was sore troubled."

"Hetty"—he spoke her name sharply—"say no more unless thou dost truly mean thy words!"

"I, truth, I mean so much more than I have said to thee," she went on sadly, "that I despair of ever making my lips frame the words my heart doth bid them speak."

A faint sound of the noisy clanking of the crowd at the Mayland farm was swept in through the window by the breeze. Hetty shuddered and, edging nearer to Simon, laid her small hand on his.

"Forgive me. No longer shut thy kind heart against me, Simon. Be my friend again. 'Tis all I ask."

He threw up his head with a sharp, indrawn breath.

"Hetty, thou must speak out what thou dost mean!" he cried. "There can be but one thing between us, and that is—love! Before God, I will be thy friend, but I must be thy husband also."

A glow of color mantled her face and throat.

"If thou would deem me worthy," she faltered, with drooping head, "an' I were one-half good enough, I would ask thee to overlook the past, to forgive me, Simon, an' to take me for thy true and faithful wife. I would promise to love thee dearly."

With a glad cry he stooped and gathered her into his arms.

"No more such words, Hetty. I ha' listened long enough! Not worthy of me, a rough, hardworking farmer—the maid I ha' ever held so high above all other women!"

He pressed her fondly to his strongly beating heart, saying tenderly, moved in his great joy to an unusual expression of sentiment. "Ah, Hetty, bright sunbeam of my life, that went away so coldly, praise God thou hast come back, bringing warmth to cheer the sad heart of a lonely man and light to set a glow of joy about his quiet home!"

(To be Continued.)

Excursion Tickets to Interscholastic Track and Field Meet at Appleton, Wis., Via the North-Western Line, will be sold at reduced rates May 15 and 20, inclusive, to return until May 22, inclusive. Apply to agents Chicago & North-Western R'y.

Want ads are good investments.

WYOMING BANDITS BREAK JAIL

Overpower Sheriff, but Battle Follows in Mountains.

Casper, Wyo., May 13.—Deputy Sheriff Webb was overpowered in the county jail and disarmed by Ed Lee, Martin Tour and William Wardlaw, prisoners, who made their escape after securing guns, ammunition and clothing from the sheriff's office and horses and saddles from the stables. The party rode away in the direction of the Casper mountains. Deputy Sheriff Haring and a posse started in pursuit, overtaking the bandits near the summit of the mountains, seven miles from town, where a battle ensued. Citizens with field glasses witnessed the fight, but night came on and the outcome is not known. A second posse has left Casper and a third will join the chase.

HOLDS CONTRACTS ARE VALID

Ohio Judge Says Express Companies Are Not Liable for Injuries.

Columbus, Ohio, May 13.—Judge Evans of the common pleas court sustained the validity of contracts entered into by express messengers exempting express companies from damages by reason of personal injuries and also upheld the validity of the liability exemption as printed on railroad passes. The decision was rendered in the suit of Frank M. Martin, a United States express messenger against the Toledo & Ohio Central Railroad company.

Beloit Debaters Are Victors.

Beloit, Wis., May 13.—The freshman debating team of Beloit college won the first annual debate with Lake Forest university, having the affirmative of the question: "Resolved, That the protective tariff on trade between United States and Canada be abolished."

Wins Interstate Normal Debate.

Milwaukee, Wis., May 13.—Mary Campbell of Cedar Falls, Iowa, normal school, took first place in the interstate normal oratorical contest, at which representatives of Illinois, Wisconsin, Missouri, Iowa and Kansas spoke.

David P. Swenson, instructor in philosophy and psychology of the University of Minnesota, has been granted a year's leave of absence from the university.

Stops Chills.

Painkiller

(Pain Expeller)

Cures Cramps.

VERY ANNOYING.

This Hardly Expresses What Janesville People Say of It.

Any itchininess of the skin is annoying.

Little danger in itching skin diseases.

But they make you miserable.

Doan's Liniment is a never-failing cure.

For Piles, Eczema, all itching troubles.

Janesville citizens endorse it.

L. Lawrence of 408 S. Franklin St., engineer at the Janesville Electric Light Co., says: "I tried about everything recommended for itchininess of the skin, but found nothing to give me relief until I struck Doan's Ointment at the People's drug store. I had an affection of the skin on my face, caused from the burning oil about the engine and dynamo. My face itched and annoyed me, and rubbing it only made it worse and made it sore. I could hardly stand shaving for the skin broke and bled. A few applications of Doan's Ointment removed the itchininess and healed my face in a few days. I would not be without this remedy in my house and I certainly recommend it to others in need of such a preparation."

Sold for 50 cents per box by all dealers. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S.

Remember the name "Doan's" and take no other.

10,000 People in One Week

Accepted our offer to pay the druggist one-half the cost of a FULL SIZED BOX of Nu-tri-ola Blood & Nerve Food

Don't miss many of these thought $3.00 a box (top high quality) and to prove it to them we placed a box in their hands as just a HALF PRICE. Now they know for themselves what a wonder-worker Nutriola is.

WE NOW EXTEND THIS

OFFER TO YOU

DRIVERS' STRIKE HAMPER TRADE

Bad Weather and Labor
Troubles Interfere With Activity in Chicago.

FACTORY OUTPUT IS LARGER

Sustained Demand for Product Is Indicated by the Large Distribution of Manufactured Material—Outlook Is for Large Crops.

Chicago, May 13.—The weekly review of Chicago trade, published by R. G. Dun & Co., says:

"Adverse weather and continued strike troubles interfered with a well-rounded volume of local activity, but notwithstanding these obstructions the inherent strength of trade has not been affected. Except a lull in the demand for furnace product, almost similar to that of a year ago, new business appeared in satisfactory volume throughout other leading lines of industry. Production shows no curtailment and the distribution of manufactured material and staple commodities is heavy, indicating sustained consumption.

"Other encouraging conditions are seen in uninterrupted factory work, building construction and improved dealings in State street trade. Agricultural reports of late had such an optimistic tone it is reassuring to find them amply confirmed by official authority and the promise of larger crops adds to confidence in the general outlook.

Traffic Movement Is Large.

"The traffic movement both by lake and rail reflects increased forwarding. Although receipts of grain were 28 per cent under those of the corresponding week last year, shipments gained 63 per cent, and larger marketing is noted in live stock, hides, lumber and provisions. Interior advances show farm work advancing rapidly and country stores meeting with good demand for supplies.

Manufacturing branches have not been directly impeded by labor troubles and the output exceeds that of a year ago. Steel mills have all the work their capacity permits, and the finished product remains in good request. The buying of pig iron is slower, but considerable known requirements of consumers are likely to enter into booking for the third quarter.

"The necessity for basic material is marked by enlarging receipts of ore and lumber, that of the latter being 57,187,000 feet, against 27,247,000 feet a year ago. Demand remained good for woodwork, and there is an upward tendency in prices for output of the Northern pineries.

Hides and Leather.

"Receipts of hides were 7,129,968 pounds, against 3,726,131 pounds a year ago. Market dealings were of fair aggregate. Leather is in wider use, and tanning proceeds on an enlarged scale without apparent accumulation of stocks, while the leather consumers, although costs of supplies are dearer, buy freely. Footwear and trunks being in growing demand.

"Receipts of grain were 1,747,912 bushels, against 2,446,690 bushels a year ago, and the shipments aggregated 3,240,082 bushels, against 1,980,057 bushels. The general demand for breadstuffs was slightly stronger, but poorer export sales weakened the situation. Provisions were in better request and shipments have expanded. Live stock receipts, 252,230 head, compared with 239,345 head a year ago, and are under expectations.

"Failures reported in the Chicago district number fifteen, against fifteen last week and thirty a year ago."

Convicts Can't Learn Trade.

Detroit, Mich., May 13.—Judge George S. Hosmer handed down a decision in the case of Martin Manthey against the state prison board holding that the state constitution prohibits the teaching of the trade of broom-making to convicts.

Disrespect to President.

Washington, May 13.—William B. Williamson, a transfer clerk in the railway mail service, has been suspended by Chief Clerk Owens because he is alleged to have used undignified and uncomplimentary language about President Roosevelt.

Negro Attacks Two Women.

Ocala, Mo., May 13.—Dave Carroll, colored, is accused of attacking Martha McCoy, a widow, and her 16-year-old daughter, Gertrude, at their home in the suburbs. Mrs. McCoy is not expected to live.

Fatal Gas Explosion.

Paxton, Ill., May 13.—James H. Andrews, a wealthy farmer of Wall township, Ford county, was instantly killed by the explosion of the generator of his acetylene gas plant at his elegant country home.

Federal Places for Illinoisans.

Washington, May 13.—W. A. Northcott of Greenville, Ill., has been appointed district attorney, and L. A. Townsend of Galesburg, Ill., has been appointed United States marshal for the southern district of Illinois.

Former President Grover Cleveland has returned from a cruise in southern waters, which began two weeks ago on E. C. Benedict's steam yacht Oneida.

Five Die in Copper Mine.

Butte, Mont., May 13.—Five men have been killed and two injured in an explosion in the Cora copper mine, one of the Helz properties.

SMART CREPE BLOUSE FOR LUNCHEON WEAR

For the family or the semi-formal luncheon those dainty little blouses of crepe de chine fit in beautifully; and much lace is used in their fashioning. The model shows the one seam of crepe de chine, that of double width, in an old ivory tone, the present fashion of full blouses and still fuller sleeves making the double-width weaves far the more desirable, for the single widths call for an amount of joining and piecing that is anything but satisfactory in the result. A round yoke is made of alternate strips of lace and shirred silk, the lace a square Milan mesh with crocheted buttons in groups at intervals. The blouse is shirred full to this yoke, which extends over the shoulders, and the sleeve is arranged with a double puff that comes halfway to the wrist, where it is met by a cuff similar in construction to the yoke. The collar is lined with chiffon and held in shape with little rods of eatherbone.

BRONZE PERIOD TOWN IS DUG UP

Excavators Unearth Graves, Huts and Cave Dwellings in Germany.

Breslau, Prussia, May 13.—Excavators have unearthed 400 graves and 150 cave dwellings of the bronze age near here. Part of them are of the early bronze period, 1,200 or 1,500 years B. C. Another portion of the grave fields is of the later bronze age. The excavation includes a village of a dozen huts containing a collection of spinning and weaving instruments.

Paymaster Loses Warrants.

San Francisco, Cal., May 13.—Capt. F. W. Hart, paymaster of the transport Lawton, left the navy yard with $10,000 in warrants on the pay office, but turned up later hopelessly drunk. The warrants were missing. He was arrested and will be court-martialed.

Prince Gustaf Given Appanage.

Stockholm, May 13.—The rigsdag has voted Prince Gustaf an appanage of $35,000 in view of his approaching marriage with Princess Margaret of Connaught. King Oscar has presented a summer residence.

To Improve the Rio Grande.

City of Mexico, May 13.—It is announced on semi-official authority that the Mexican government will appropriate $14,000,000 for removing the bar and building jetties at the mouth of the Rio Grande.

Dies at 104 Years.

New York, May 13.—Joseph Lewis, 104 years of age, is dead. He served with two sons throughout the civil war. Lewis was the father of twenty-seven children.

LOSES SAVINGS OF LIFETIME

Milwaukee Citizen Robbed of $12,000 While Visiting in Oshkosh.

Milwaukee, Wis., May 13.—Thirty-six thousand marks, about $12,000 in American money was stolen from Bruno Konetzer, a Milwaukee man, at Oshkosh. Konetzer reported his loss to the police and an effort is now being made to capture the thief. The amount stolen represents the savings of twenty years of hard work as overseer of large estates in Germany. The police anticipate little trouble in getting the thief or the money. The latter consisted of thirty-six bills of 1,000-mark denomination.

SHORTAGE CAUSES A SUICIDE

Wisconsin Elevator Superintendent Kills Himself in Barn.

Oconto, Wis., May 13.—L. J. Ross, for the last year superintendent for H. E. McEachron & Co. of Wausau, in charge of their branch elevator here, committed suicide Wednesday. His body was found in a barn four miles from the city. He left the elevator suddenly on Wednesday after partly checking up his accounts with the auditor of the company. He is supposed to be several thousand dollars short in his accounts.

First Play Bill.

In 1863 the first play bill was issued from Drury Lane theater. The play was advertised to be acted "by his majesty's company of comedians," and was entitled the "Hymen of Leventant," and was to commence at 3 o'clock precisely.

Well-Known Writer Dies.

Philadelphia, May 13.—Emerson E. Bennett, a well-known writer and composer, is dead at the Masonic home, aged 83 years. Bennett was born at Monson, Mass. Among his song productions were "A Prairie Flower" and "Lent Lento."

CROSSETT

$3.50 SHOE $4.00

For Business or Pleasure

BECAUSE it is stylishly made does not alter the comfort of the Crossett Dress Shoe. It's a holiday shoe with an "every day" comfort.

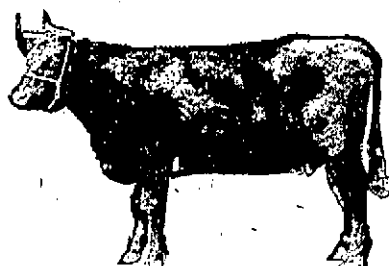

If your dealer does not keep them, we will send any style by mail or express on receipt of price with 25c. additional to pay forwarding charges.

Write for illustrated catalog.

LEWIS A. CROSSETT, Incorporated,

North Abington, Mass.

MAKES LIFE'S WALK EASY

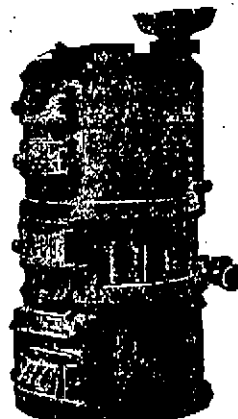

VIOLA

From Little's Pioneer Herd
Dual Purpose Short Horns

was exhibited at the St. Louis World's Fair and tested very high in quantity and quality of milk; Short Horns keep easy and lead in milk and beef.

Rose of Janesville 2d
EST. THOS. LITTLE, B. W. LITTLE, Manager.
3 Miles N. W. Janesville, P. O. R. 7.

Don't Be Mislead

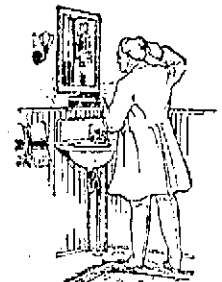

by the fact that because I conduct a first-class Plumbing and Heating establishment that I am high priced. This is not the case. I am prepared to install a heating plant of any size and to equip any home with modern plumbing. I have a well equipped workshop and first-class mechanics only are employed, and this enables me to put in the best apparatus and in the most approved manner, at reasonable rates.

Let me submit an estimate for a Heating plant for your new home or for your OLD HOME. The apparatus is made in sizes to suit any requirement. Do not wait until the end of summer before you look into this.

Spence and American boilers and Kewanee radiators are in use all over the country. Your patronage solicited.

Are You Going To Remodel?

If so, you will do it with the intention of improving upon present conditions.

Our part is to interest you in our ability to improve and perfect your sanitary equipment.

We do but one kind of work—the best—and use the famous "Standard" Ware, every piece of which is guaranteed by the manufacturers to be strictly first quality. Let's talk it over. We have samples in our show room.

F. E. GREEN, - PLUMBER

Read Gazette Want Ads.

PASTEURIZED MILK PASTEURIZED MILK PASTEURIZED MILK PASTEURIZED MILK

A $5,000 Plant

would be folly unless there was a good reason for it.

We have spent a large sum of money for machinery and equipment in handling and treating milk in a hygienic manner.

All the raw milk which reaches our place is treated to a process that eliminates the animal odors and disease germs without destroying the butter fat or richness.

The result is a pure milk with no contagion.

JANESVILLE PURE MILK CO.

GRIDLEY & CRAFT, PROPRIETORS.

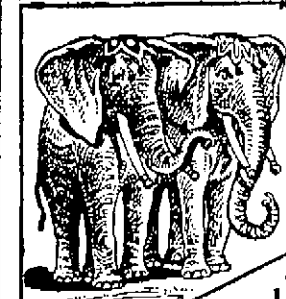

Both Phones North Bluff St.

PASTEURIZED MILK PASTEURIZED MILK PASTEURIZED MILK PASTEURIZED MILK

CIRCUS JANESVILLE, MAY 30

DECORATION DAY

THE DOMINANT GIANT OF MODERN AMUSEMENTS
THE GREAT
ADAM FOREPAUGH
AND SELLS BROS
ENORMOUS SHOWS UNITED

THE GREATEST GATHERING OF WORLD-FAMOUS FEATURES EVER EFFECTED, FORMING AN AGGREGATION OF ANIMAL WONDERS, HUMAN ACHIEVEMENTS AND SPECTACULAR GRANDEUR NEVER BEFORE DEEMED POSSIBLE

"PANAMA" THE SUPERB, NEW, PATRIOTIC 1000-CHARACTER SPECTACLE

14 WOLKOWSKYS Marvelous Russian Whirlwind Dancers

CAPT. WEBB'S 2 TROUPES OF TRAINED SEALS

THE AURORA ZOUAVES THE CHAMPION EXPERTS OF ALL THE WORLD'S MILITARY MEN

A 6-FOLD CIRCUS OF 300 PERFORMERS
Given in 3 RINGS, in the AIR AND ON 2 STAGES

10 POLAR BEARS BESIDES EVERY STRANGE CREATURE KNOWN TO ZOOLOGY. THE LARGEST MENAGERIE IN THE WORLD

KONGO AND ZEFFA Mammoth African, Hugo-Tusked, Giant-Eared War Elephants, and Three Big Herds of WISEST ACTING ELEPHANTS

DINUS TROUPE, PROSPER TROUPE GREATEST OF EUROPE'S ACROBATS

O'BRIEN TROUPE In the Latest and GREATEST OF EUROPEAN EXPLOITS

The Longest, Grandest, Richest FREE STREET PARADE Ever Seen. Every Morning at 10 o'clock. One 50-Cent Ticket admits to Everything. Children under 12 years, Half-price. Doors open at 1 and 7 P. M. Performances Begin at 2 and 8 P. M.

Reserved seats and admission tickets can be secured show day at the Peoples' Drug Co. store at same price charged on the grounds.

BORT, BAILEY & CO.

We have just received a large shipment of new chic styles of

WHITE SHIRT WAISTS.

Beautifully trimmed with lace and embroideries, They are the very latest creations brought out by the celebrated "Gem Waist Co." and offered at our usual popular prices 97c, $1.19, $1.43, $2.00 and $2.50.

See these waists displayed in the front of our store.

BORT, BAILEY & CO.